PALMER ACTS ON STRIKE WRIT

District Attorneys Get Orders to Nail Radical Agitators.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Instructions were issued today by Attorney General Palmer to all United States district attorneys to keep closely in touch with the situation in their districts and report promptly any concerted action "by any two or more persons" to limit facilities for transporting, producing, supplying, storing or dealing in coal, or to exact excessive prices.

NO OFFICIAL EXPLANATION

While no official explanation of the order was available, one purpose was understood to be the prevention of radical agitators among the idle coal miners from obtaining a leadership. It was made public tonight following the return to Washington of C. B. Ames, assistant to Mr. Palmer, who procured for the government the injunction in the coal strike. Mr. Ames will assist in the administration of the fuel and food control laws, but would not discuss the governments plans.

PALMER'S INSTRUCTIONS

Mr. Palmer's instructions to the district attorneys follow:
"Test day at Indianapolis, Ind., Anderson, on the application of the United States, issued a temporary restraining order restraining a large number of the United Mine Workers from taking any action or proceeding any kind whatsoever in furtherance of the bituminous coal strike which had been previously called. It is of the utmost importance that I should be promptly advised of any concerted action by any two or more persons in your district to carry forward this strike. Please communicate with the marshal and the local representatives of the bureau of investigation and keep yourself fully informed of the situation in your district."

"REPORT JOINT ACTION"

"If you discover any concerted action by any two or more persons either employers, employees or others, which amounts to an agreement or arrangement to limit the facilities for transporting, producing, supplying, storing or dealing in coal or to restrict the supply or distribution of same or to exact excessive prices for coal or to add or abet in the doing of any such act, you should advise me at once by wire giving the names of persons and full particulars. Federal Fuel Administrator has issued order restraining former police fixed by fuel administration and any proceeding in coal should be promptly proceeded against."

LULL IN SITUATION

Aside from this action by Attorney General Palmer, there was a lull in the coal strike situation here today. Each side was waiting apparently for the other to move.
Reports from mining fields stretching from Pennsylvania to Washington state, showed that the strike order was generally obeyed by union men, while non-union mines remained in operation. In the central competitive fields, the union stronghold, mines were closed.

ALTHOUGH LABOR LEADERS ASSERTED

there was "one hundred per cent" compliance with the strike order, officials believed the real test would come Monday.

CABINET INTERESTED

How long the strike might run, the possibility of mediation, and a check up on the nation's available supply of coal with the winter demand for fuel increasing, were the principal questions to engage attention of cabinet members. Some of the stock reports were more encouraging, and with continued operation of non-union mines, it was claimed the supply would meet current needs.

A VAST VOLUME OF COAL, THE LAST TAKEN from the mines before the men quit work, was moving today, with the railroad administration putting forth every effort to distribute it to sections where most needed, after looking after its own requirements.

GEOLOGICAL SURVEY

The geological survey, said soft coal production for the week ended Oct. 25 was 13,115,000, probably a record, and that miners, with few exceptions, worked loyally to help fill the country's coal bins before starting a strike.

NO FORMAL STATEMENTS

There were no formal statements from labor leaders. Officials generally seemed inclined to let matters stand as they were over Sunday.
Telegrams were received at the department of justice from many states, commending the stand of the government.

Non-Union

Men Work

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Although tonight found nearly all the nation's vast bituminous coal fields closed as a result of the miners' strike effective Friday midnight, thousands of non-union miners were at work and in questioning such assistance or the use of our influence."

Mr. Lee returned here today from Washington, where he has been for several weeks on the pending wage demands of the trainmen.

First Day Is Quiet

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 1.—Saturday, the first day of the strike of soft coal miners, passed quietly in Illinois where approximately 30,000 mine workers are idle, according to Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois districts.

The strike order has been universally obeyed in this state," Farrington said tonight after receiving additional reports from southern Illinois fields, where the bulk of the state's coal is mined.

FEW DEVELOPMENTS

There were few developments in the course of the day. Among them was preparation for a meeting, here Monday of members of the executive board of the Illinois district, summoned by President Farrington before the restraining order of Judge Anderson was issued at Indianapolis.

The meeting originally was for the purpose of perfecting state strike plans. The call for the meeting, it was understood, has not been rescinded.

NEW ELEMENT

A new element in the strike was the acknowledgment by the management of the O'Quinn mine near Springfield that an order had been received from the office of the quartermaster general of the United States army directing that the mine, which is engaged in furnishing coal for Camp Grant, Rockford, continue to fill its contracts. With the mine closed by the strike, the mine officials were confronted by a difficult problem.

John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers of America, was expected to reach his home here tonight or tomorrow for the week-end.

Quiet At Headquarters

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 1.—With officials of the United Mine Workers of America silent as a result of the restraining order issued yesterday in federal court to prevent their further activity as miners' strike leaders, there were no developments of consequence in Indianapolis today in connection with the walkout of bituminous coal workers.

LEWIS LEAVES

Hundreds of telegrams were received at mine headquarters today from bituminous coal fields of the country, but due to the restraining order, officials could not divulge their contents.

NO STATEMENT

Henry Warrum, who has been engaged by the miners as counsel in connection with the injunction proceedings, also declined to make any statement aside from information that the constitutionality of the Lever act under which the government case was brought, will be attacked, nothing is known of the probable line of defense to be adopted by the union leaders.

REDS REPORT

LUGA CAPTURE

[By The Associated Press.]
London, Nov. 1.—The capture of Luga on the railway about 100 miles south of Petrograd, is claimed by the Bolsheviks in a wireless message received here today. The message says street fighting is continuing in the town.

WOMEN'S CONGRESS

VOTES 8-HOUR DAY

Washington, Nov. 1.—After several hours' discussion the International Congress of Working Women adopted a resolution today demanding an agreement among nations for an eight-hour law or a forty-four hour week for women with an uninterrupted period of at least a day and a half.

MINERS QUIET

IN TAYLORVILLE

Taylorville, Mo., Nov. 1.—The first day of the miners' strike passed without incident so far as the 120 miners of the five sub-district of the 12th district of the miners' organization is concerned. Only the sentinels, firemen and a few other men necessary to maintain the mine were at work.

The remainder went to their homes at midnight. Friday night when the strike order went into effect, the order had been issued before the injunction had been served and the men have received no word from their heads since the injunction but as per schedule.

The sub-district is composed of the counties of Christian, Montgomery and Shelby and has a membership of 1,500 men. Officials at headquarters and the men themselves scout any danger of violence or need for troops to guard any mine property in the entire district.

DYING MOTORMAN

SAVES PASSENGERS

Edgewater, N. J., Nov. 1.—A dying motorman's last act today was to apply the brakes to his car lest it coast over a precipice on the Hudson Palisades and kill 30 passengers. Thrown from their seats by the sudden stopping of the car, the passengers found the motorman, Alexander Rabich, dead from heart disease. The car had stopped on the edge of the precipice.

WANT MORE LABOR VOTES

Industrial Delegates in World Meet Disfavor Diplomats.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Dissatisfied with the present basis of representation in the International Labor conference, the labor group delegates decided today to make an effort to throw out the votes of all countries which have not sent worker delegates and are represented only by governmental appointees.

More than ten Latin-American countries, as well as China, Romania and Siam, have not sent labor delegates, and are represented by a diplomatic officer stationed in this country. The labor delegates contended that these officials were not acquainted intimately with conditions in their home country and not qualified to represent them.

GRIEVANCE GOES BACK

The grievance goes back to the provisions of the Versailles treaty which gave the government two delegates employers one and labor one. At the Amsterdam meeting of the International Federation of Trade Unions, the demand was made that the government delegation in each case also be reduced to one.

This raising of this issue blocked the program of the conference to take up Monday the question of an eight hour day and forty-eight of the week. The commission on selection was unable to agree on procedure and the entire matter probably will come before the conference next week.

LABOR SOUGHT DELAY

Labor delegates sought this delay in the program for the further purpose of preventing action prior to the arrival of the Germans and Austrians, it was said, as they are expected to be almost solidly in sympathy with the workers.

By eliminating the votes for governmental delegates, the labor group leaders hope, it was said, to create a block strong enough to prevent the conference from taking action unfavorable to it. A two-thirds vote is required on all questions of the conference. The government delegates of Czechoslovakia and probably of Holland and Belgium would take part in the workers on all issues including in the agenda of the conference, one foreign delegate said.

GERMANS COMING

The German and Austria delegates sailed from Amsterdam on Oct. 24 and should be here Wednesday, according to W. A. Appleton of England, president of the International Federation of Trade Unions.

MOVING TROOPS

FOR STRIKE DUTY

Day Passes Without Disorder Reported.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Although the day passed without any disorder, army officers and state authorities in bituminous coal producing states were on the alert and the day's developments in a military way were:

Movement of three companies of troops to Tennessee to re-enforce 400 already there.

Four hundred federal troops on duty in Charleston, W. Va., had no difficulty preserving order when several hundred strikers marched into the city from the Cabin Creek district.

TO OHIO

A battalion of the Second Infantry, Fourth Division, entrained at Camp Sherman, Ohio, probably for duty in Ohio or Kentucky coal fields.

All thirty-second infantry, regular army troops at Camp Kearney, California, ordered to report at once, one company to be equipped with machine guns and be ready to depart at once, presumably in connection with the strike.

Federal troops at Fort D. A. Russell prepared to entrain tomorrow for northern Wyoming at request of Governor Carey.

IN ALABAMA

Six hundred Alabama state troops ordered by Governor Kilbey to mobilize for strike duty in case of emergency.

Four hundred Colorado state guardsmen marched about streets of Trinidad, where they arrived today to be held for any assignment found necessary.

At headquarters of the Central department of the army, which includes the great coal districts of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Illinois, it was said tonight no new troops movements had been ordered.

NO FRICTION

The appearance of federal and state troops in West Virginia and Colorado produced no friction with the strikers.

No troops were ordered into the Walsenburg district of Colorado, where the Colorado Fuel and Iron company has several mine properties, as the sheriff at Walsenburg warned that presence of troops might produce disturbances.

STEEL STRIKE NOT LOST--FOSTER

Former Syndicalist Calls Prospects Good.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 1.—W. Z. Foster, secretary of the National Steel strike committee, told the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor today that the "steel strike is not lost, the steel mills throughout the country are tied up and the bottom has fallen out of steel production."

It was the outstanding feature of the steel strike situation in the Pittsburgh district today, for union leaders generally attended the convention and said there was no change in the situation.

COMPANIES DISAGREE

Steel companies met Foster's statement with the assertion that mill operations had improved during the week and more steel had been made than at any time since the strike was declared.

Mr. Foster is appealing to the convention for funds for the strikers, said more than 300,000 men were out, and that the families of striking steel workers were facing starvation and crying for bread. He reviewed the work of the strike committee's commissaries, and said "thousands of dollars" were needed to carry them on.

ACTION URGED

President James E. Maurer, who opened the convention said as president he was "willing to go through on any program. We must do something and must be active."

PLAN DRASTIC ACTION

Gary, Ind., Nov. 1.—Drastic action is planned by leaders of the striking steel workers, who today announced two important meetings for tomorrow and Monday. Plans will be outlined tomorrow at a meeting of the steel workers' council with representatives of the railroad brotherhoods and of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor present. The leaders freely declared they planned to tie up Gary and other steel towns in this district by sympathetic strikes.

Charges that the steel companies have ordered hundreds of strikers to vacate their homes owned by the companies were made by the union men and in connection with that situation the meeting was called for Monday.

Charges that the steel companies have ordered hundreds of strikers to vacate their homes owned by the companies were made by the union men and in connection with that situation the meeting was called for Monday.

DON'T NEED TROOPS

Columbus, Nov. 1.—National guard troops mobilized a week ago at Akron for steel strike duty at Canton were ordered demobilized it was announced at the governor's office today.

It was stated that the situation at Canton had improved so generally that local authorities now are able to control it.

BILL WOULD CALL

FRAUD TREASON

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 1.—Astounded by the mass of evidence tending to show that the government had been defrauded of thousands, if not several million of dollars, in the construction of Camp Sherman, Congressman Lewis C. McKensie, Illinois, chairman of the sub-committee which is investigating the camp construction, declared tonight that he will introduce a bill in congress making it treason to defraud the government in time of war.

IS GIGANTIC

Chairman McKensie said he was certain before entering upon the inquiry that the government had been defrauded in the construction of camp, but that he never expected it to reach such gigantic proportions.

Congressman McKensie said he is certain the committee will furnish the department of justice ample evidence on which to base criminal prosecutions.

TO OTHER CAMPS

The committee concluded its hearings here this evening and will go to Camp Sherman Monday, where about thirty additional witnesses will be examined. It will go to Camp Grant, Illinois, Nov. 10, where a similar investigation will be conducted.

That fifty Chicago professional camp shooters obtained positions as plumbers at Camp Sherman and were paid regular plumbers wages of $3.25 a day though they spent all their time "rolling the bones," was testified to today by Ben M. Clark, Chillicothe, timekeeper for contractors building the Camp Sherman cantonment. The camp shooters made as much as $100 a day at their profession, Clark said. He said to his knowledge they never worked at plumbing a day.

MEX TROOPS

FLEE TO TEXAS

Brownsville, Tex., Nov. 1.—General Andrew Almazan, Mexican rebel commander, with about seventy of his men today occupied the town of Reynosa, Mexico, opposite Hidalgo, Tex., according to reports here tonight. He met with no opposition to the Carranza soldiers in the Reynosa garrison having crossed to the Texas side.

MUST REPLACE BOATS SUNK

Supreme Council Sets Re- paration for Ger- many.

Paris, Nov. 1.—Demand will be made of Germany that all violations of the armistice shall be made good. This has been decided upon by the supreme council, which has completed the protocol to the German treaty.

The protocol provides that Germany shall surrender cruisers and destroyers to replace those sunk at Scapa Flow, and also surrender floating dry docks, lighters, cranes, tugs and other naval equipment equal in value to that of the first class battleships destroyed, which Germany cannot replace.

DIVISION LATER

There is no provision in the protocol as to how the warships and naval supplies shall be divided among the allied and associated powers. Germany has been asked to send a commission to Paris to sign the protocol and attend the formal ratification of the treaty.

The supreme council has completed its reply to the Bulgarian request for changes in the peace treaty and will probably submit it to the Bulgarian representatives tomorrow, granting ten days for the signature.

DETECTIVES RAID

DETECTIVE AGENCY

Charged With Stirring Up Steel Riots.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Fifty detectives operating under the direction of State's Attorney Hoynes today raided the offices of the Sherman Service Inc., a detective agency, which is charged by officials of the Chicago Federation of Labor with attempting to foment rioting and destruction of property in connection with the steel strike.

Mr. Hoynes said the raids were to support charges of Edward Nockels, secretary of the federation of labor that this agency had been hired by the Steel and Tube company, and the Illinois Steel company, to cause race hatred and disorder in the steel strike called.

CHARGES TRUE, SAYS HOYNES

"There is no doubt that the Sherman Service Inc., through its operatives, was engaged in stirring up riots. Its operatives destroyed or advocated the destruction of property, aroused antagonism between different groups of strikers and employed slugs, all the time professing to be engaged in the business of conciliating trouble makers," State's Attorney Hoynes said.

STEEL OFFICIAL IMPLICATED

"The agency was admittedly employed by the Steel and Tube company, and C. J. Stillman, assistant to the president, was the officer who dealt with this agency. He denied any knowledge of the methods of the Sherman Service and repudiated them. So far as I am advised the Illinois Steel company did not employ the Sherman Service."

WANT TO UNITE

WITH GERMANY

[By The Associated Press.]

Vienna, Nov. 1.—The Socialist party last night unanimously adopted a resolution expressing belief that Austria cannot survive as a separate state and urging the government to do all in its power to secure the removal from the peace terms of the clause prohibiting union with Germany.

RESERVE UNITS

Later, he continued, men emerging from universal training camps could be assigned to these reserve units in their home localities. He suggested that the men thus assigned be assembled for drill or maneuvers "once or twice during the period they are held for possible service" after training, though they could not be actually called into active service except in time of war.

DIFFICULT PROBLEM

The general said the problem of fitting in this plan with any continuance of the National Guard as such, was a difficult one. He suggested that the governors might be given authority to call the reserves into service in local emergencies, but preferred that their training and organization be distinctly federal.

PROMOTION BY SELECTION

Gen. Pershing also declared his preference for army promotions by selection rather than seniority, and recommended a single list for promotion. In that way, he said, much "dead timber" could be eliminated and existing inequalities between staff and line removed. The present promotion system, he characterized "as absurd."

ILLINOIS CENTRAL IN PERFECT SCORE

No Accidents on Springfield Division.

The campaign against personal injury, being conducted on the various railroads of the United States since Oct. 18, came to a close at midnight Friday night with an excellent record. The complete results will not be known for several days but it is certain that several thousand less accidents occurred during the period this year as compared with the corresponding period last year.

Local Illinois Central employees were smiling Saturday morning because this division here, known as the Springfield division finished the campaign with a 100 per cent record. The Indiana division also finished with a perfect score.

The Wabash offices here do not expect to have their report before Monday, but it is known they have reduced the number of accidents about 60 per cent over the same period last year.

Guard Wreckage.

The Wabash is carefully guarding all that is left of the freight wreck at Wyckles a few days ago. This consists of two carloads of black diamonds good old hard coal that is hard to get and hard to pay for now. It is said that one man sent a team all the way from Illinois to Wyckles to get some of the coal, claiming he had bought it, but as he did not produce the necessary papers, he was not allowed to get close to the coal pile.

Co-operative Buying.

While the Wabash shophmen have not organized any co-operative store proposition yet, they are gradually working along that line. Recently the shophmen reduced their grocery bill to a considerable extent by shipping in potatoes and beans. It is now understood that they have a large consignment of flour ordered.

Red Cross Drive.

Through officials of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. the Red Cross membership drive next week, is to be carried to every railroad man. The chief in each railroad department will be directly responsible for the campaign in his own department and he is expected to turn in a 100 per cent record.

MORE STORES FAVOR EARLY CLOSING

Clothiers to Adopt New Schedule.

The 5:30 closing of all clothing stores and women's ready to wear stores is likely to be agitated next week. In fact it has been agitated since the change in time a week ago but not at all actively or aggressively. Clothiers and ready-to-wear dealers say that they are quite willing to close at 5:30 on five days of the week and at 8 o'clock on Saturday evenings, but there has not been concerted action taken to that end. An attempt will be made next week to get the names of all the dealers in Decatur and to fix upon a definite time for beginning the earlier closing. It is not believed that there will be any objections to this plan.

OTHERS MAY FOLLOW EXAMPLE

The dry goods stores have been closing at 5:30 ever since the daylight saving plan went out of effect and there is this much in the way of prestige and example to influence the other dealers. Two years ago the stores in Decatur adopted 8 o'clock as the closing hour during the winter months. This hour will not be considered this winter for the reason that the dry goods stores have already fixed upon 5:30. Hardware stores, shoe stores and other stores will probably be included in the 5:30 closing agreement. Groceries and meat markets will not be included but their hour for closing will doubtless be correspondingly advanced.

STUDENTS PREPARE STORY OF DECATUR

Will Be Printed in Book Form.

IS VALUABLE WORK

Vitalize Teaching of Geography and English.

The story of Decatur is to be written and printed in book form by the Decatur public schools. While this is undertaken as a school exercise it is designed to make it the most comprehensive thing of the kind that has ever been done and it is believed that the book will be of so much value as to be in demand by many citizens. The work of gathering the material and preparing it for publication will be done by the pupils under the supervision of the teachers.

Its direct purpose is to vitalize the teaching of geography and English. The material will be obtained from actual observation and experience. The pupils will write of a factory after they have visited the factory and studied it. They will learn not only about that factory but will form in their minds a vivid and accurate conception of manufacturing in the broader sense.

ALREADY AT WORK

The plan as outlined by Miss Imboden, supervisor of elementary work, is already in the hands of the teachers and both teachers and students are taking hold of it with an interest and zeal which forecasts its success. The book will consist of at least 160 pages and will cover the various phases of the city. It will have a cover design and title page prepared by the drawing students under Miss Immes. It will be handsomely printed and bound, probably in pamphlet form. There will be a certain number of copies complimentary bound by the students in book binding, but the bulk of the edition will be bound by the printers.

TAGGED FOR ERRORS IN GRAMMAR

Good English Week in High School.

Next week is Good English week in the high school and every student is expected to watch his tongue. Posters have been hung in the corridors warning students to beware of transgressing the laws of good English. Mr. Westlund of the faculty has contributed some striking cartoons and an auditorium meeting of the students next Wednesday will be devoted solely to good English.

COLOR TAGS

Miss Olive Bear, the head of the English department, is conducting the drive for good English. Among other things the common errors of speech are to be tagged and each error is to be indicated by a tag of a different color. Any student or member of the faculty heard using "Ain't" will be decorated with a red tag. A black tag will signify the use of "have got." The users of "fur" will wear yellow brown will mark the ones found guilty of saying "I seen." Orange will mark those who say "just" and blue will indicate the users of "git."

WHITE FOR CLEAR RECORD

On Friday all those who have a clear record will be tagged with white.

Last year Good English week in the Decatur high school was so great a success that the number of the Good English Bulletin published by the University of Illinois was filled with an account of it. It is promised that this year's effort will surpass last year's.

SCHOOL NOTES

Miss Gunhild Johnson, public school nurse, will next Thursday afternoon deliver an address to the high school teachers and the women's club of DeLand on school health.

Superintendent J. O. Engleman has been offered a position as instructor in the University of Indiana during next summer, beginning in June.

CHIEF DEVORE ON NATIONAL BUREAU

Appointed to Important Committee.

ADVISORY CAPACITY

Issue Recommendations for Fire Prevention.

Fire Chief C. W. Devore of the Decatur fire department has been appointed a member of the National Bureau of Fire Prevention having just received word to this effect from John C. McDonnell of Chicago, chairman of this bureau. The appointment was made by John Kenlon

C. W. DEVORE.

chief of the New York department, and president of the National Association of Fire Engineers.

CONSISTS OF 20 MEN

The bureau consists of about twenty men from all over the United States and four of them are from Illinois. The chiefs from Galesburg and Rockford being named along with the Decatur and Chicago department heads.

MAKES RECOMMENDATIONS

While Chief Devore has never been connected with that bureau before, yet he is well acquainted with the line of work which it does. The committee meets several times a year and issue throughout the year various kinds of warnings, orders, bulletins and recommendations any thing along the line that will help to reduce fire hazards and bring about more safety and precautionary methods. While the committee is not a salaried organization and does not have power of forcing orders, yet it is looked upon as very important in a national advisory way and recommendations made by it are very apt to be carried out by officials who do have authority to enforce such recommendations.

Each member of the committee does have considerable power in his own state and city as all have the power of deputy fire marshals.

DECATUR FARMERS HAD LITTLE TO EAT

Woman Hiker Says She Had a Hard Time Getting "Eats"

Springfield Journal—Hiking from their home in Philadelphia, Pa., to Tacoma, Wash. Mrs. D. L. James and son, William, arrived in Springfield late Friday afternoon. They will remain in the city for several days visiting the tomb and home of Lincoln, the state capitol and other points of interest.

Mrs. James and her son, the latter of whom is an active member of the Boy Scouts, left Philadelphia three weeks ago. Although they do not make any of their journeys by rail road, Mrs. James and William accept lifts in automobiles. This accounts for the rapid progress they have made in their journey.

Already the hikers who are accompanied by their little fox terrier mascot have visited New York, Pittsburgh, Akron, O., Dayton, O., Columbus, O., Indianapolis, Ind., Terre Haute, Ind. and Decatur, Ill., and a number of smaller towns.

The people in Ohio and Indiana showed more willingness to pick us up in their machines than have the people in Illinois. Automobiles driven by women have passed us along the various roads. Only in three instances do I remember women asking us to ride with them. It has always been the men who gave us a lift. Mrs. James said.

Mrs. James told of the difficulty with which she and her son, who is 16 years old, met Friday in trying to purchase provisions from farmers living near Decatur. At several places she says, farmers told her they did not have a bit of bread in the house, although they were, at the time, preparing their mid day meal.

From Springfield the hikers will set out for Kansas City. They do not know when they will reach Tacoma for Mrs. James explained, "We are just taking our time."

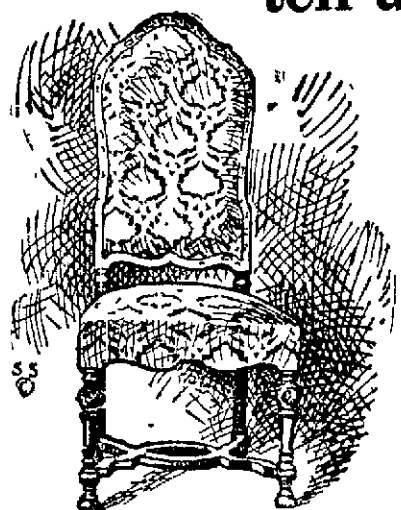

"If we like Tacoma, we will, after a short visit in that city, return to Philadelphia by train. Then my husband will make the trip to Tacoma with us in our car," Mrs. James said.

COOK BOOK FOR MEN IS SUGGESTED

Should Prepare for Emergencies.

Some of these days somebody who wants to get rich quick and doesn't care how suddenly will publish a book for men. No rot a ponderous tome for chefs filled with elaborate food formulas that have to be backed by a first class provision market, a chemist shop and a liquor store but a booklet of vest pocket size for men without culinary training and containing a few simple recipes such as 'how to boil water' 'how to make coffee that doesn't taste like stumps' 'how to fry bacon' etc. There is scarcely a man that is not some time up against the alternative of cooking or starving. There are men so helpless. In the presence of a kitchen stove that they would rather go to a bum restaurant and eat fried hickory chips than try to cook and others who in their blind ignorance of the elements of cookery will achieve results at which a starving coyote would turn up its nose. ONE MAN'S EXPERIENCE Any man of ordinary intelligence can cook palatable food if he has the most elementary knowledge of cookery and sets about the task in earnest. There is a man in Decatur who last Sunday week was forced to cook three meals. His wife was sick and he simply could not get help. He had never before in his life tried to cook a meal. The rock of his salvation was his little eight year old daughter. She couldn't cook but she knew where mamma kept things and she knew something about what mamma did. He prepared breakfast dinner and supper. They were not elaborate meals but they were well cooked. He says so himself. For breakfast they had boiled eggs buttered toast cereals and coffee. Of course the veriest novice can't miss it for in boiling eggs there is some skill required in making toast but the eight year old assistant was most useful there. GOOD MEAL For dinner he spread himself a bit. It is assumed that the wife was not too sick to give some instructions but the actual preparation of the meal was entirely in the hands of the husband and daughter. For dinner they had roast beef, mashed potatoes, gravy, stewed prunes, bread and butter and coffee. It was a delightful meal although there could be only two in the dinner party. For supper the left overs were used. The cold roast beef was sliced, the mashed potatoes were fried in oil and stewed prunes were again served and the only new item in the menu was tea. The point of this story is that with a little bit of instruction a man totally without skill in cooking was able to save the day. A most unpleasant situation was relieved and every body was happy. SUGGESTIONS FOR BOOK This little cook book for men may include an emergency department for occasions when a man may not have a kitchen with a well stocked pantry and a first class gas stove at hand. It may have a few things to cook and no place to cook them but an open fire. There may also be a department of camp cookery where only the few articles of food and few utensils are at hand. To prepare something fit to eat under such circumstances may be real art but one worth mastering.

GOOD SOIL BUT POOR HIGHWAYS

California Man Wonders How They Can Go Together. Trial Poller of Pomona Cal. has been visiting in Decatur and vicinity for several days. His people came from near Dalton City and he has a good many relatives here. He has been in the United States navy and recently received his discharge. During his visit here he has seen a good deal of the country about Decatur. There were two things that appealed to him most strongly. They were the wonderful fertility of the soil and the poor roads. He has been used to the fine roads of California and has seen a great deal of the fine roads in France. He could not understand how such wonderful soil and poor roads could go together in Illinois.

CAME TO DECATUR 35 YEARS AGO

A. Schlick Recalls His First Day Here.

Adolph Schlick of 433 South Webster street recalls that it was thirty-five years ago last Monday that he first set foot in Decatur, or Oct. 26, 1884. The first man he became acquainted with in Decatur was Amos Baker, then ticket agent for the Wabash. A good many people still remember Mr. Baker, tall and dignified, but genial and ever ready to do a good turn. Adolph was from the blue Alsatian mountains, then under German domination. He had come to America to make his fortune. No band had accompanied him to the train when he left Alsace. In fact he made just a little noise as possible in his departure. He was just at the age for service in the German army and there were those who would have objected to his leaving without delivering the service. If he had stayed he might today have been General Von Schlick. But he went and kept on going until he reached Decatur. He had a brother Charles here and his first object after getting to Decatur was to find his brother. INQUIRED FOR BROTHER Mr. Baker was the first man that Adolph approached to inquire about his brother. Adolph spoke no English and Mr. Baker spoke no German so that they could not make much headway with the conversation. Mr. Baker conducted the stranger over to a seat in the old Illinois Central station and commanded, "Sitzen sie!" or words to that effect. Adolph didn't know whether he was a prisoner of war or was taken in charge for some civil offense. But he stayed put. POLICEMAN HELPS OUT Presently a policeman came into the station. Things looked still more ominous. Mr. Baker looked the policeman and said a few words to him which Adolph couldn't understand. Then the officer came to Adolph and said a few words in German which he could understand quite well. The policeman merely wanted to know what Adolph had been trying to say to Mr. Baker. The language was translated to Mr. Baker. To be sure Mr. Baker knew about Charles Schlick. He worked in Monahan's shoe shop less than half a block away. In a few minutes the brothers were together. WARM SPOT FOR MR. BAKER Mr. Schlick has stuck to Decatur for thirty-five years. Always during that thirty-five years he has had a warm corner in his heart for the man who went to some pains to set him right when he first came here. Opens New Shop. PERMIT ISSUED FOR FILTER PLANT

New Staley Building Near New Pumping Station.

The A. E. Staley company took out a building permit Friday for the new filter plant it will build near its pumping station on the Sangamon river. The pumping station is now under way and the twenty-four-inch main from the starch works to the river, together with the thirty-six-inch intake, is now in. BRICK BUILDING The filter plant will be a one-story brick building 30 by 119 feet. The building is to cost $5,000 and the equipment will cost several times that much more. The intake rests on piling and the top of it is six feet below low water mark. The water from the intake flows by gravity into a deep well at the pumping station and the water will be pumped from there to the filter plant. SUPPLY 10,000,000 GALLONS The big water main is about a mile and a half long and its total weight is about 1,815 tons. When completed the plant will be able to supply the Staley plant with 10,000,000 gallons of water daily.

WANT BETTER HOUSE THAN CAN AFFORD

Housing Committee Considers Applications. Some Are Delayed. The housing committee of the Association of Commerce meets regularly now to consider the many applications for homes and these applications are being handled as quickly as possible. A number of them have been filed. In the majority of cases, however, the applications have been delayed because too many of the people want a better house than they can afford. In one case, twenty-seven years would be required to pay off the second mortgage. Others would require more than fifteen years and the average time on most of them is ten and twelve years. The committee is asking many people to modify their plans so they can take care of their second loans within about five or eight years.

At no other time in recent years is it more necessary to save coal than now, with a nation-wide coal strike on. Let us place an ESTATE HEATING STOVE in your home and thus enable you to save that fuel. The permanent air tight feature in an ESTATE HEATING STOVE is the first requirement of perfect fire control. This is made possible by the jointless ashbox. Since there are no joints there are no leaks and waste of heat. Household Her Page Fashions

LONG ON SUGAR AND SHORT ON SENSE

Did you ever hear the tale of the devoted wife who always slept with her arm around her husband's shoulder? Never did? Well she used to say, "But not because I love him so. But because he snores so bad I want to be near to bustle him quick before he chokes to death."

Uncouth and terrible woman! Truly! But just like the housewives in Decatur these days look like in sugar. They sleep and eat with one arm around the grocery clerk. In fact they are like that old girl in mythology that used to sleep with one peeper open. They do too. There is always an ear or an eye or a nostril open for the jeep of the soft song of sugar sugar who has the sugar. Even over the shuttle at the Titter and Tat all they stop to lip that macharine song.

Poor (?) women to trotting all around to the big extensive groceries and tell plausible tales to the parodic clerks and buy even more expensive grub than they usually buy. Some carry home three bottles of anchovy paste when they used to carry home just two bottles—in order to get a pound of sugar extra. Because a father dear father wor's hard and needs his sweet. Or will work harder the next two months justifying himself—and needs a bit of something soft.

And all the while the other women are running around in their shiny Jew box with artificial beaks and upper lights to the cash and carry stores the second hand groceries the government sales to get a pound of prunes at one place—and a pound of sugar. And a box of oat meal at another place—and a pound of sugar. And a can of corn meal at another place—and a pound of sugar. And a bit of corned beef—and a pound of sugar.

USEFULS BUYS

I'll hook up there has been more useless groceries bought these last sugar days than there ever was before in the piping times of peace. Talk about the distribut on of trade. I never saw such trade distribution. I know personally a woman who has three in family and was on an average of nine miles a day has six new grocery men—besides her old regular one and four new meat shops and prunes enough on the shelf to last the Yankees over two Chateau Theriax. Still she has learned some thing. She no longer has that look of the rich benevolent female who is kind to the proletariat and who gives what she can't use to the Salvation Army. She has learned to be almost human to meet the Chawsses on their own. she has learned to be like a boomer to argue like a sailor and to pursue like a Dutch uncle with discipline. In his system he can stick like a barnacle and change her temperament like a chameleon. I have seen her coming out of one store where the grocery clerks run to the dry goods clerk in embryo type looking like an illustration for Oscar Wilde take a breath of air and puff herself out to attack some Teutonic Swabian looking like an ad for ham bone and cabbage.

There isn't a Jane (I know that it is alright to call them that because Colonel Watterson does) a housewife Jane that has not mortgaged her soul to the devil like Faust a market for sugar. And has paid the price to the devil to do it too. And here from late to 2-c a pound.

She has prostituted enough grocery clerks to feel like calling them all by their name that they smile when they say—out beyond Denver or south of the Rio Grande. They either smile or taste the spit. Sometimes wonder at her lack of imagination that she has never thought of the spit. She has learned human nature so well that she can tell when a grocery clerk is just as sure as you can tell a real stage actor when he walks across the screen behind Charlie Chaplin.

I have known that woman to go in to a strange store and buy two dollars worth of the coffee and ask for her sugar and find out that they had just sold that pie that she smelled. I saw her coming out looking as humiliated as a gold fish in an oyster bucket from the Decatur Drug store.

IS IT WORTH IT

Why should we do all that for the giggles? Is not life worth more than that?

I ask you a sister under the skin under the layers of sugar induced double chin is the game worth the candle?

Haven't we got spine enough to take our pound a week to pay our government price and pursue the orderly tenor of our ways? Is sugar at the end of existence? Why should we enrich that middle man that has stuck our poor dear grocer till he has to ask us for half the week's wages? (Notice that I pass the buck. Boss doesn't want me ever to do sugar but boss Decatur merchants.)

Are we a spoiled and stiff necked race in the words of him who was found in the bulrushes? Have we no police and no self respect? Can't we remember that it hasn't been more than a hundred years ago that sugar was unknown? We could live all the rest of our lives and ten years longer too. If we never had any sugar.

I ask you again subcutaneous sorority is the game worth the candle? M. L.

HOW TO MEET YOUR HOUSEHOLD PROBLEMS

Questions put in to this department will be answered by the Home Advisor, Miss Lulla A. Harkins, of the Macon County Home Bureau.

PASTEURIZED MILK

Is pasteurized milk wholesome and why is it pasteurized? How much milk should be given to children?—A Mother.

Answer: When this question came I asked half a dozen of the Decatur milk dairies if they sold pasteurized milk and they said "No." There is only a limited amount of pasteurized milk sold in Decatur.

Dr. Mary Swartz Rose in "Feeding the Family," says, "Only clean milk should be bought. Fresh milk is best when one can be sure that every precaution has been taken to keep it clean and cold and free from harmful or excessive bacteria. Nature provides fresh sterile milk for the young, if they are deprived of this, it is right to have the best obtainable 'Laboratory' and 'certified' milk are guaranteed to be wholesome. In the country, one should know the conditions under which milk is kept cold from the time of milking. Pasteurized milk must be used when there is danger of contamination, but pasteurized milk has changed somewhat by heating and if used exclusively should be supplemented as early as possible by orange juice (for the baby as a precaution against scurvy).

HOW MUCH TO GIVE

How much milk should be given to children? I believe that a quart of milk a day is a good rule. The Minnesota plan says only a pint a day. The Dr. Sherman of Columbus University who has made many dietary studies, says, "Especially in the feeding of children should milk be used freely because of its many advantages as a tissue-building and 'growth-promoting' food. A quart of milk a day for every child is a good rule easy to remember."

In no other way can the food habits now prevailing, especially in the cities be so certainly and economically improved as by a more liberal use of good milk."

Housekeepers are always having questions come up which they would like to have answered and they are glad to learn how other people, especially those who have problems, have handled them. Miss Harkins, Home Advisor has many inquiries put to her regarding household matters and often questions of a like nature are asked at The Review office. For the benefit of those inquiries and other readers of The Review, this column will appear every Sunday morning in The Review, where questions which have come in during the week will be answered by the Home Advisor.

Readers are invited to send in any questions which they would like to have answered. Questions may be turned in either to The Review or to Miss Harkins. All inquiries received by Thursday evening each week will be printed the Sunday following. It is preferred that the questions turned in to The Review be written out.

Dr. E. V. McCollum of Johns Hopkins University, was asked at the dairy show, "How much milk ought we to say a school boy ought to have every day?" He replied, "I have been asked that question a good many times. My answer is this: That I have four children and I give them a quart of milk apiece every day." China is becoming a very heavy buyer of British books, especially textbooks.

NEW WELFARE HOME WILL OPEN SOON

Reception for Public Will Be Held.

WORK NEARLY DONE

Barnlike Hall Turned Into Comfortable Home.

Within ten or twelve days Decatur will be invited to see the new Welfare home for girls which is being rapidly finished, everything now being completed except some work to be done by the plumbers.

MUCH ACCOMPLISHED.

The new home is the remodeled Turner hall building on South Broadway and only a visit to the building will give anyone an idea of what has been accomplished there in turning a barnlike, but substantial, Turner hall into a modern, light, airy, comfortable home capable of caring for seventy-five girls when needed.

From the exterior very few changes can be noticed but the instant one steps into the lobby and turns to the left to look across the immense living room and on out through the play room which becomes part of it when the folding doors are doubled back against the side walls, one knows that he is in a real home.

LIVING ROOM.

The living room is, of course, the center about which the life of the home is expected to revolve, and no element which would give the home feeling has been left out of its make up. An immense fireplace, with ample wood boxes on the side, has been reconstructed and the row of windows on the west gives plenty of light.

For the furnishing of this room, this heart of the home, the Rotary club of Decatur appropriated $700 and this money has been invested in a large rug, library table, chairs and other furnishings. For the play room adjoining the living room Mrs. Alexander McGorray recently sent a check for $100 to supply the necessary furniture for that recreation spot. The play room is also fitted, along one entire end with deep drawers on rollers in which the children will keep their equipment.

DORMITORY.

Across the corridor which runs the length of the building is the cozy dormitory which has its own bath rooms, lavatories and closets, etc. It is connected directly with the main room, which is located on the southeast corner of the first floor. Both rooms have ample sunlight space and the main corridor opens out on the first floor of the immense porch, sixteen by fifty feet, which seems hung up among the trees of the old Turner park, so close are they and so high is the porch with its immense south front.

On the second floor is the dormitory for the larger girls and a number of separate rooms, including the hospital ward, where anyone who is sick may be taken and cared for without danger to other members. The hospital room has its own bath room and all about the building are closets for various purposes.

MANY CLOSETS.

It is very plain to the man observer that women had considerable to do with the planning of the home. There are closets everywhere. Clothes closets, linen closets, bedding closets, fruit closets, large closets and small closets. One visitor counted twenty-two different closets and he believes that he missed several in his count. Then there are lockers for each child's belongings, coat hanger rails in the clothes closets in addition to the usual hooks, clothes chutes, dumb waiter, shelves for fruit, bins for vegetables, and butler's pantry for serving.

TEACH DOMESTIC SCIENCE.

The kitchen, which is in what is called the basement, but which is really the first floor as it is on the ground level, one of the features of the place. The tables, sinks and range are so arranged and of such size that domestic science classes can be held there after the home is started.

It is planned that any girl who stays there will be a better girl in more ways than one when she leaves. The domestic science teachers at Millikin university have already sent word that they will be glad to conduct classes at the home any time they are called upon to do so.

The dining room is just north of the kitchen and it is a big, roomy, light place, with a fine hard wood floor and in it will be installed a very handsome buffet which was given to the home by Anton Spaeth and which is now being refinished without cost to the home by the painter who has the general contract for the work there.

In addition to the large kitchen and dining room in the basement there is the receiving room where any girl who comes to the home is first received and where there is a bath room and every appliance for making the newcomer ready to meet the other members of the big family. The modern laundry is also in the basement.

MOVE IN SOON.

It is planned to get into the home very quickly now. The old home is badly overcrowded with eighteen girls living there and if the plumbers will get out of the way the big family will move in the day after the reception which will be given to Decatur people within a very short time.

"Every dollar we have spent here has brought $100 cents worth of service," said Mrs. Guy Scovill, president of the board.

"Everybody has been most anxious to help, donations have been many and everyone who has worked here has tried to give more than his wages worth to the home."

Every effort has been made to take away from the home the dreary "institutional" appearance and air which prevails at so many of these places, and success seems to have attended these efforts in a full measure.

NEWS OF BOY SCOUT TROOP 4

Boy Scout troop 4 gave $5.10 to the Roosevelt Memorial fund.

The Halloween social of the troop was called off because of the Junior Sanitation League banquet. Many of the troop members attended the banquet.

The standing of the troop patrols for October is as follows: Wolves, 545; Panthers, 540; Flying Eagles, 480 and Beavers, 430.

The patrol contest, which closes Nov. 15, promises to be a lively one. The Flying Eagles are getting into the race and the Beavers are planning to show the Wolves and Panthers how to win.

MEMORIAL SERVICE.

Last Tuesday evening the troop held a memorial service for Scout Daniel McCarty, who died one year ago. The troop paid tribute to his memory by standing with bowed heads in silent prayer, followed with a prayer by the troop chaplain. Tributes were spoken by scouts Bricker, Santanen and Scoutmaster Turner.

Scout Andrew Santanen was named temporary captain of the football team.

The troops expects to take on handicraft work in the near future. The Panther Patrol is holding a troop flag for the third time.

The troops attendance last Tuesday was 35. The average attendance for the month was 37.

The key word for the meeting Tuesday, Nov. 4, is section 7 of the scout laws. All scouts are urged to be in their places at 7:15.

Scouts White Wheeler, Santanen and Sattler volunteered for Red Cross service.

REV. CHAS. W. GILKEY COMES THIS WEEK

Prominent University
Speaker in Decatur.

Rev. Charles W. Gilkey, D.D., who comes to Decatur to deliver a series of addresses this week, is a native of New England. He graduated from Harvard in 1903. UNIVERSITY WORK

Dr. Gilkey became pastor of the Hyde Park Baptist church Chicago in December 1910. This church is near the university of which Dr. Gilkey is a trustee. This connection has naturally led him to do a good deal of work in the colleges and universities both in the central west and in the east.

During the past few years, Dr. Gilkey has served as university preacher at Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell, Toronto, Stamford, Wellesley and Purdue; he has also delivered lectures at the State Universities of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa and South Dakota.

At the present time Dr. Gilkey is vice chairman of the committee on war and the religious outlook.

Dr. Gilkey comes to Decatur on the invitation of the church federation. The announcement Saturday afternoon that he was coming from Union Methodist meetings was an error as he comes in the interest of all churches.

The following program has been arranged for Dr. Gilkey by the committee in charge:

He will address the high school students at 9:30 a. m. Monday and speak to the ministerial association at 10:30 a. m. Monday evening there will be a mass meeting in the First M. E. church. A workers' conference follows this meeting.

Tuesday Dr. Gilkey will speak to the students at the J. M. U. and to a meeting in the M. E. church at 7:45 in the evening.

Paris, Nov. 1.—Charges of murder and burglary, based on articles 227 and 228 of the Versailles peace treaty, were lodged against German officers in the Paris courthouse yesterday by a firm of jewelers.

This firm had a branch house at Ostend when the Germans occupied the town in October, 1914. The manager of the store and his wife were shot and three safes were blown up and their contents taken.

PLENTY OF MONEY TO BUY JEWELRY

Dealers Have Big Demand for Diamonds.

WILL RAISE PRICES

Enormous Advance in Wages Asked.

Diamonds, pearls and solid silver. These are gems more precious than diamonds or pearls and metals more valuable than silver but somehow these things are expressive of the rarest and best. "I have never before in my experience known such a demand for jewelry as since the war," said a local jeweler. "And the things that are most in demand are diamonds, pearls and solid silver. It is not only jewelry that they are buying but everything that goes with jewelry. Let me show you something." He walked to the other end of the counter and removed from its white cotton-flannel bag a huge solid silver tray. It was big enough to carry an entire tea service and empty was almost heavy enough to be a load for a maid.

COST $500.

"It cost $500," he said, "I sold it to a woman who bought at the same time a coffee pot, sugar bowl, cream pitcher and the other things that go with it. I had the other things in stock but was obliged to order the tray. It has just arrived. I have never sold as many diamonds as I am now selling. I sell a diamond now for $500, $600, $700 or $1,000 as easily as I used to sell one for $100. They are buying the best and most expensive in jewelry."

SPENDING HABIT.

What is the reason for this unprecedented buying? One reason is of course, that people have more money to spend than ever before. Many people have been getting good wages and they have a surr- with which to buy jewelry. But there is another feature about jewelry buying which explains a good deal of the heavy buying. There are a good many people in Decatur who have had plenty of money for years but they never spent any of it for jewelry. They never spent ten dollars on themselves or on anybody else for pleasure. Through the numerous contributions which they have been compelled to make while the war was on they have learned to loosen up. They have got the spending habit. It is to a considerable extent a habit.

"Jewelry has advanced in prices as has everything else," the dealer was asked.

HIGHER NEXT YEAR.

"Not as much as many other things. But it will be much higher next year. The expert workmen employed by the manufacturing jewelers of New York are asking for an enormous increase in wages, time and a half for overtime, shorter days and a three hours shorter week. If these demands are granted jewelry will be much higher."

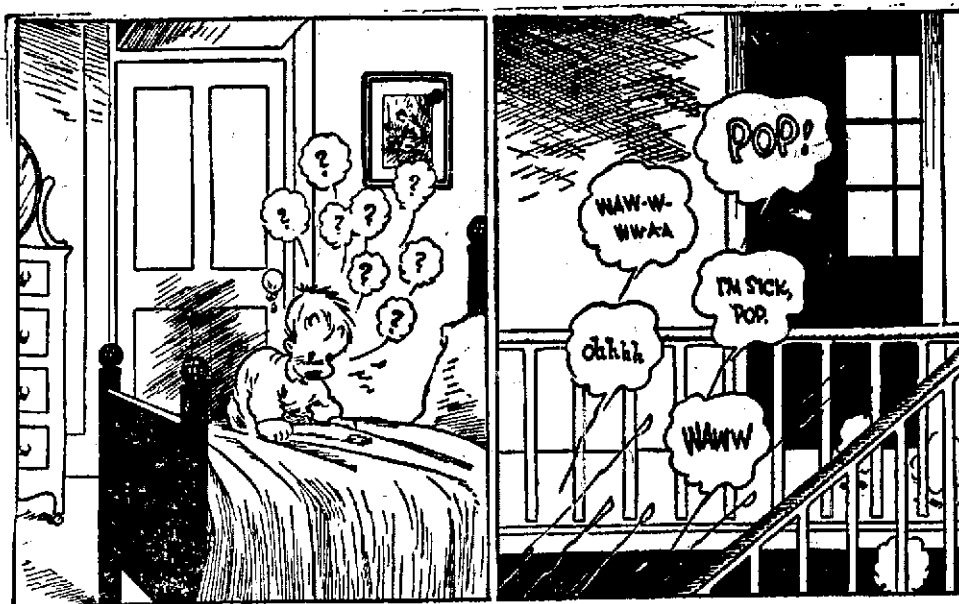

The story of the Decatur dealer is the story of the jewelry trade everywhere. "America and most of the civilized world is jewelry mad," is the opinion expressed in Malden Lane, New York's jewelry and diamond center.

"While the nation is groaning under the high cost of living the people—from the ditch digger and the domestic to the business man and the society woman—are investing or expending unheard of sums in jewelry," says J. H. Baccus, secretary of the National Jewelers Board of Trade. The fact that prices are 100 per cent higher than they were a few years ago makes no difference. Last month, according to Baccus, there were only two failures reported in 25,000 jewelry firms.

GET $125 A WEEK.

Diamond cutters are paid $125 a week by the Malden Lane establishments. More than 600 expert diamond cutters are employed there. They are mostly Belgians and Hollanders many of whom were forced out of Europe by the war and they were promptly absorbed by the local market.

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

ALARMING SYMPTOMS!

BILL HOLTZER HAS THE FIRST HONOR

Drove Engine With Electric Headlight.

As a matter of railroad history it may be stated that Engineer Bill Holtzer piloted the first engine on the Wabash equipped with an electric headlight. Engineer Holtzer was one of the best known engineers on this division of the Wabash up to '94. After that for several years he was a member of the Decatur police force. He returned to the service of the Wabash about the close of W. A. Garrett's regime as superintendent of the old Middle division and is now running an engine on the Moberly division.

WONDERFUL SPECTACLE

Engineer Holtzer on the historical occasion above referred to had the proud distinction of bringing No. 1 out of Chicago with the first electrically equipped engine. Electric headlights were new and they excited much interest. People along the line came out to watch the blazing white eyes that could be seen miles away. At Forrest which was essentially a Wabash town nearly the entire populace turned out to watch the arrival of the train. It was a wonderful spectacle.

When Engineer Holtzer stepped down from the cab wiping his hands with a bit of waste his chest was visibly expanded.

NOT ADJUSTED

"How's she working, Bill?" inquired the train dispatcher who had joined the crowd on the platform.

"Well, she's working pretty fine but I haven't got her adjusted just right yet."

At that moment, "ding" and the headlight was out. "Never mind," said Bill, "I'll fix her in a minute." Fixing an electric headlight may be a trifling job for the man who is familiar with electric headlights but it wasn't for Holtzer. He tinkered five minutes, then ten then some more until he had lost twenty minutes.

"Say, I'll have to hang some time on you," said the dispatcher. "Don't do that," begged Holtzer. "Give me chust five minutes more." He was given five minutes more which was extended to ten and then to fifteen. The dispatcher spoke again.

EADLY GOT OUT LANTERN
"Bill, you've got to get out of here at once and instantor of the stuff is off for you." The awful threat meant that the train would lose its right which is a distressing thing for a first class passenger train. Engineer Holtzer hunted up a brakeman's lantern hung it on the head of his engine and left town, a picture of the pride that cometh after a fall.

CYCLISTS' BOOK IS CURIOSITY

All Bicycle Routes Are Marked.

"Cyclists Road Book of Illinois—1920" is the title of a curiosity exhumed from the archives of the Review the other day. The book, from the name on the flyleaf, belonged to

George M. Hart, now superintendent of dining car service for the Wabash. It is of convenient pocket size and is beautifully bound in red morocco.

37 YEARS AGO.

The book was published by the League of American Wheelmen, an almost forgotten organization, twenty-seven years ago, when the bicycle was at the zenith of its glory. One examines this almost ancient road book with admiration and is inspired to place wreaths upon the grave of the L. A. W. If the final resting place of the organization can be found. Perhaps nothing published in these days of automobile route books would be of as much service to the motor tourist as this twenty-seven year old cyclist's road book.

AUTO ROUTES FOLLOW.

The book contains sixteen maps which comprise the entire state of Illinois. Each map represents a section of the state of four or five counties. The bicycle routes are marked in red but the maps show all the roads. It is quite as important in these days of much road construction to be able to select a suitable detour route as it is to follow the trail laid down in the route book, and this the maps in the cyclist's route book enable one to do. It is interesting to note that the automobile routes follow very closely the cyclist routes of twenty-seven years ago.

INDICATE KIND OF ROAD.

The road book maps indicate the character of the roads by a series of symbols. They are shown as level, rolling, hill or mountainous, and fine, good, fair, poor. Thus, a road marked 2C is rolling and fair while one marked 1A is level and fine.

One scarcely needs a date line to note the antiquity of this road book. The Illinois Traction Lines are not shown on the map of Macon county. There is the Decatur & Pekin railroad, the Decatur & St. Louis, the Great Western, the Toledo, Wabash & Western, the Decatur, Sullivan & Matton, the Decatur & Monticello and the Chicago & Paducah.

COMPLETE SERVICE.

The book contains an alphabetical list of the towns in Illinois with the local consuls of the L. A. W. and the leading hotels. Harry Shlaudemann is shown as the local consul in Decatur. This indicates a completeness of organization which automobile clubs have never attained. The touring cyclist in a strange town could always be sure of aid and comfort from the local consul or the local club.

MAKE DECATUR AN EXCURSION POINT

New Lake Will Attract Sunday Visitors.

"Decatur Lake. All out for Decatur Lake!" will probably be heard by a year from next summer when the hot weather excursion business begins.

ESTABLISH R. R. STATION. Already there is talk of the establishment of a regular stopping place for the C. & W. railroad at the end of the bridge on which that road crosses the Sangamon river just east of the city.

The building of the handsome Staley Fellowship club house out in the lake just at that point, with its boat dock and its equipment for recreation, has awakened the local officials of the road to the possibilities of making Decatur one of the really important stops on the road for summer business.

TURN TRAVEL THIS WAY. From being a town from which the road takes passengers to spend Sunday at Turkey Run or Indianapolis, it is now seen that the creation of the impounding lake and the starting of the Staley pumping station with its very unusual and attractive club features and boating facilities may give an impetus to something which will turn the Sunday travel this way.

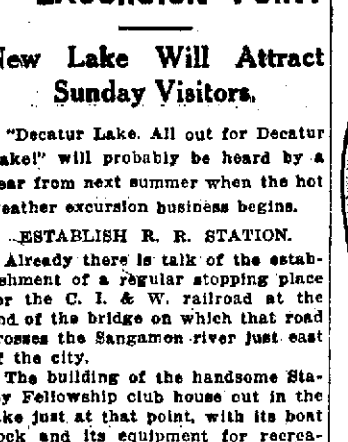

The C. & W. have their eyes on the possibilities of Decatur as an excursion terminal when the new lake is finished.

With Nelson park adjoining, with its golf course and park facilities, with the new lake for boating and fishing, an attraction for all Central Illinois will be easily created.

On the Threshold of a Brilliant Social Season—A Display of

Beautiful Evening
Frocks and Wraps

NEVER have those who create the styles for formal occasions given more exquisite evidence of their genius. Never have they put more imagination, more originality into their talent.

And, as one has learned to expect, the displays in readiness here present the most distinctive interpretations of these modes.

Here is loveliness and youthfulness embodied in a delicately tinted creation of Georgette, tulle, satin, cloth of gold, or taffeta. There, grace and dignity in terms of darker colorings, or less bouffancy of design.

Here are evening frocks for maids and for matrons—a variety which will admirably meet the varying demands of varying tastes, at prices ranging from $25 to $150.

The wraps are chiefly of velvet, many of them being stately creations of black, while many others are less retiring, and bravely own to shades of bright red and delicate evening tints.

A show window is now given to a display of formal evening apparel. We ask you to see it. Better still, we ask you to come to the second floor and see the collection in its entirety.

Ready Tomorrow—Smart Distinctive
Fur and Fur-and-Fabric Toques

Just now, the new fur toque is the chief millinery thought in the mind of the woman of discriminating taste.

Foreseeing the demand for these toques, we arranged for a quantity of them to be delivered to us for a special early November showing.

They're here now, ready for your inspection tomorrow. They are in the most beautiful shapes, and of finest pelts.

Hudson seal, mole, squirrel, sealine and moline are represented in tams, square turbans, chin chins, Continentals, and Napoleonic effects.

Fur and velvet, tapestry, duvetyne, and metallic brocades have been combined and draped into fascinating shapes.

Ostrich, pheasant wings, and willow feather fancies in blending or contrasting tones have been introduced with the skill of an artist on a few choice models.

The prices range from $15.75 to $27.50.

SIX HELPERS FOR ONE BRICKLAYER

Must Keep Him Supplied With Material.

IS A FAST WORKER

Two Men Lay 400 Feet of Road Daily.

There is a negro brick layer employed in the construction of a section of brick road just north of Ross, while in Vermilion county who requires six men to tend him. The "tending" is quite a simple matter. The paving brick are dumped at the side of the section to be paved which is ten feet wide and the tenders must carry them an average distance of less than ten feet. They pick up six bricks in an iron clamp and place them at the left hand of the layer. He places them in position in the road. When in action he will place brick at two brick a second. Naturally there is some time when he is not in action his idle time depending on how well he is tended. With four tenders he seemed to be working less than half time.

DOES NOT HURRY

The man does not appear to hurry in the least. There is no lost motion and he makes no false motions. The bricks move in a constant and rhythmic stream from the little stack at his left hand to their position in the road. He pauses only when the stack has been exhausted and is not promptly replaced. He wears leathers on his hands, otherwise the constant friction would quickly chafe through the skin. He lays a strip three or four bricks wide across the road then walks back to the other side and begins again.

The man laying brick pays no attention to the quality of the brick that he is putting down. He does not even take the pains to see that the best side of a brick is up. It is his business to place them in the road. An inspector follows who lifts out the defective or rough bricks and turns them with the perfect side up or replaces them with sound bricks if the defects are serious.

30 MEN REQUIRED

This negro and one other man who is not quite so speedy lay 400 feet of road a day when the gang is working with full force. This is 400 square feet of road surface or 2000 square feet for each man. I require about thirty men to constitute a full gang. It is difficult now to keep gangs up to their full quota. The concrete is mixed and poured into the steel side forms. The brick are laid on the top of the green concrete. They are surfaced with a heavy hand roller and filled with three applications of grout. It is what is known as monolithic construction. A section of road is finished the same day that it is begun. Indeed the brick laying and grouting follow right at the heels of the concrete mixer.

The one fear in brick pavement is that it will crack and split as did the pavement on North Morgan street in Decatur in some of the villages of Vermilion county brick pavement laid a few years ago has done that very thing. The monolithic type of pavement cannot "blow up" as do the sand cushion pavements sometimes, but it is not quite as smooth as the brick pavement laid on a cushion of sand. It is held by the supervising engineer in Vermilion county that expansion joints properly placed will prevent the disastrous cracking and splitting.

CHRYSANTHEMUM POPULAR FLOWER

Quantity is Plentiful and Quality Fine.

November and chrysanthemums are here.

The great fluffy blossoms are in their splendor and it seems they grow more popular every year. At this season no party is complete without chrysanthemums as decorations. Bouquets of them are given to honored guests and for the matinee a huge yellow blossom touches up the dark frock or suit. They are used in the church pulpits and in the homes not only for their beauty and gorgeousness but their lasting quality and hardiness have made them one of the most popular of flowers.

SELL MANY SINGLE BLOSSOMS

Greenhouses of Decatur are resplendent with the pink, white and yellow mums. The quantity is plentiful and the quality very fine, the florists say. One greenhouse now has 1000 of the flowers in bloom. The pom pom variety and the yellow flowers are the best sellers. They range in price from four to six dollars a dozen and the single blossoms sell for thirty five and fifty cents. Some of the florists say they sell on an average of 100 chrysanthemums each day, most of them being bought singly.

Folk who love the flowers are demanding the finest qualities in the chrysanthemums and the florists each year are catering to that rather than the quantity of the plants.

"Why Smith Left Home"

By George Broadhurst
Screenplay by Elmer Fernald Directed by Donald Crisp

THEY couldn't fool Smith! No sir-ee! He knew a thing or two.

He could survive an elopement, a train wreck, a hotel fire and an earthquake—which he did—all for her. He could even hold his own with the lady who called him son-in-law. But there are some things in this world that a regular man can not and will not endure.

What? That's "Why Smith Left Home." Bryant Washburn at his funniest and best in this smashing picturization of George Broadhurst's famous stage hit. You'll be sorry if you don't come.

New York—Julia Marlowe and her husband F. H. Sothern, are back on the stage after several years of retirement during which time Miss Marlowe was seriously ill. They are appearing in a revival of Shakespearian plays and Miss Marlowe is the star of old New York sees no deterioration in her excellent work.

The Screen

D Appleton and company, one of the leading publishers of school and college text books, and the educational department of the Universal Film company have joined forces to make motion pictures a practical and important part in school and college instruction. Botany films to illustrate John M. Coulter's widely used text books, will be among the educational films. The screen has been described as a painless method of education for films entertain while they instruct.

Dan Crimmins and Rosa Gore, famous vaudeville team, will play character roles in Dorothy Phillips' feature, "Ambition," now being produced under the direction of Allen Holubar.

In "The Woman in the Plot" there are scenes representing a gathering of more than a hundred officers of the American, British and French armies in Paris after peace was declared.

Harry Franklin, recently with Metro, will produce "Rouge and Riches," the next Mary MacLaren feature at Universal City.

Blanch Sweet, who starred in "The Woman of Pleasure," was D. W. Griffith's first star. Wesley Barry, the freckled-faced kid, is at his best in "A Woman of Pleasure." He has appeared in just three pictures.

Booth Tarkington will write a series of twelve two-reel comedies on the order of the Penrod tales for Goldwyn. They will be called the Edgar comedies and will be about one Edgar.

Metro has purchased an original comedy, "The Cave Lady," and will use it as a vehicle for May Allison. The comedy will probably be produced on Broadway by James Cullen after it has been filmed.

"Some Baby," a successful stage farce by Zillah Covington, has been purchased by Metro Pictures corporation. Viola Dana will probably be the star.

The Fifth Avenue setting in "Lombardi's," Bert Lytell's forthcoming picture, are so perfect in detail that they will fool even the New Yorkers.

"Bound and Gagged," the new ten episode Pathe serial which will be released Oct. 25, is a romantic comedy with just enough melodrama thrill to keep spectators wondering what will happen next.

"The Black Secret," starring Pearl White, will be released Nov. 9. It is a fifteen-episode serial based on the novel, "The Secret," by Robert W. Chambers, one of America's foremost writers of fiction. In this serial only three people appear in each episode and the entire action takes place in exteriors, no interiors being used.

In "A Woman of Pleasure," starring Blanch Sweet, there is a picturesque fishing village along the rugged shore of England, some beautiful scenes in South Africa and portraits of high society in London.

Tsuru Aoki (Mrs Sessue Hayakawa) is starring in "The Breath of The Gods." The story is based on Sydney McCall's well known novel of the same name.

Joe Martin, Universal's most humorous, will be starred in the comedy, "Lower Four and Upper Three."

Director David Smith, who has been directing Bessie Love at Vitagraph's western studio, has departed for a much needed vacation. Upon his return he plans to direct a number of O. Henry pictures.

Corinne Griffith's next Vitagraph feature will be "The Bride in Bond," adapted from a successful magazine story Webster Campbell will be her leading man.

Harry T. Morey's next feature will be called "The Mightier Strength." It is based on "The Very Righteous Man," by Alice L. Tildesley, which appeared as a serial in the Saturday Evening Post. The screen version was made by William Barbara Laub.

MARY KENT WITH SCOTT'S OPERA

She Appears in Decatur This Season—Gets Praise.

Mary Kent, whose fame as a concert singer is in the making, and who has been so highly praised by Eastern critics, made her first appearance in Chicago last week with the Scotti Opera company. Miss Kent will come to Decatur this winter in one of the series given by Millikin Conservatory of Music.

Reviewing the work of the Scotti Opera company, a Chicago music critic said, "associated with Mr. Scotti were singers of fine merits. Mary Kent made all that was possible of the part of Hua-Quee in "The Orsola."

PLAYS 65 WEEKS WITHOUT BREAK

"Chin Chin" Co. Traveling Since August, 1918.

Sixty-five weeks without a break was the record which the "Chin-Chin" company, which played in Decatur Thursday night, had already made when it was here.

The company had been to the Pacific coast where it had played from San Diego to San Francisco across the continent and back to Decatur.

Here the company was making the turn around and was starting back again by the northern route to Seattle, Portland and the cities of the northwest.

GIRLS LEAVE FOR VACATION.

A year ago last August the members of the company started out on their trip and at Decatur, after the last performance Thursday, a number of the chorus girls left the company to go to their homes for a vacation.

PREPARING FOR WINTER DRIVING Motorists Study Anti-Freezing Compounds. HEATING DEVICES Exhaust Pipe Made Into Foot Rail.

Chilly days and evenings cause the motorist who expects to run his car all winter—and his name is legion—to turn his attention to the appliances and articles especially needed for winter driving.

WOOD ALCOHOL.
First of all is the anti-freezing compounds and it seems to be the general agreement among manufacturers of high class cars that wood alcohol is better, safer and quite as cheap as many compounds offered.

Wood alcohol does not affect the aluminum parts of the car, the radiator, the pump housing and the like," said a Decatur dealer.

"Our company unqualifiedly recommends the use of alcohol. It does not eat out the aluminum as does the calcium chloride, which is said to be one of the elements of many mixtures offered for sale."

SELLS AT $1.25 GALLON.
The wood alcohol this year is selling at about the same price as last year, $1.25 a gallon, and in spite of the fact that it must be replenished because of evaporation owners of cars with non-leaking radiators are expecting very generally to use it.

One-third of alcohol to two-thirds of the water needed to fill the radiator is said to be a good proportion but as the alcohol evaporates easily the mixture should be closely watched, especially as the severe winter days approach.

HEATING CARS.
Another item which is interesting automobile owners for the winter use is something for heating cars. Even the open car is made far more comfortable for feet and legs if the heat which goes out by way of the exhaust can be utilized by the driver. Various devices are employed ranging in cost from $10 to $30.

The lower cost affairs are put in the floor of a car just as the register is put in the floor of a house with the pipes carrying the hot exhaust gases beneath it.

Another device quite commonly used is a pipe, which comes up into the car and which is covered with a protecting shield so that shoes will not be burned and which is formed into foot rail.

The hot exhaust gases are conducted through this pipe which thus throws off the heat just as a steam pipe would throw it off in a house.

MAKE CARS COMFORTABLE.
The heating of closed cars is very common. In fact it is usual now, in buying a closed car which is to be an all weather car, to provide a heating device in it. In such cars the general effect of such a heater, even a very small one, is to keep the entire comfortable. In the touring car bodies the heating apparatus is not so generally effective but it does add very much to the comfort of the passengers, especially in the rear seats. By using the robes, as a cover over the heater much comfort can be derived from such a device.

difficulty for the last two or three years to get new cars within reasonable times after their purchase that it is believed buyers will be looking at cars with definite ideas of purchase long before the spring driving season opens.

DEALERS TALKING OF 1920 MODELS
Thinner Body Walls Expected to be One Change.
Far sighted dealers are already talking about the January automobile shows and of the fact that manufacturers will now be saying very little regarding the spring models as they will want to wait until about the time of the show before saying much about the real changes which may be made in the 1920 models.

Thinner body walls are sure to be one of the features in the high class cars of lighter make. This tendency is already in evidence here in a few cars which have been received.

Otherwise no extensive changes in lines or shapes are expected.

No changes in prices have been announced and it is not believed that the man who owns a model made within the past three years will feel the need of selling his machine in 1920 because of its style.

PAPER COMMENDS CAMPING GROUND
Other Cities Are Urged to Follow Decatur's Example.
Decatur's free camping ground was the theme of an article in a recent issue of a Denver, Colo., newspaper. The article commended the citizens of Decatur for establishing such a camping ground and recommended that other cities, because of high hotel rates, do likewise.

Auto Sales.
Sales the last week were not many but the receipts of shipments of cars from the factories enabled dealers to make some progress on catching up with orders.

Among the sales reported are the following:
Pile & Alexander, Overland touring car.
Emerson Piano House, Overland touring car.
Mrs. George R. Mason, Milburn electric.
J. B. Major, Overland touring car.
E. F. Mattes, Overland sedan.

TOO MUCH WATER FOR AUTO SALES
Supply of Cars Shows Steady Increase Locally.
Too much rain, too much mud, too little sunshine during a week in which nearly five inches of water dripped from the skies put the automobile business of this section of the country very much out of temper the last week.

Dealers report that there is a steadily increasing supply of cars in most lines and it is expected that there will be little difficulty in keeping up stocks once there has been a chance to get a supply ahead.

One dealer believes that many cars will be sold this winter for spring delivery. There has been so much

Oldsmobile
SETS THE PACE 22nd Year

THE "THOROBRED"

Conceived by master builders of automobiles. The lithe, sleek and spirited Oldsmobile "THOROBRED" does worthy honor to a long line of distinguished ancestry.

For twenty-two years the Oldsmobile has "set the pace" in style, in comfort, and mechanical excellence. On the same points the "THOROBRED" is characteristically Oldsmobile.

Straight and clean lines are relieved by smart, distinctive Oldsmobile touches—a beveled edge body rail, nickeled door handles, and beaded door panels.

Beautifully upholstered, with wide doors and roomy tonneau, the Oldsmobile was always a comfortable car. In the "THOROBRED" easy riding qualities are enhanced by an improved method of spring suspension.

Powered by the famous Oldsmobile 8-cylinder motor, the "THOROBRED" will walk or race at the driver's whim; yet fuel economy is a dominant factor.

The "THOROBRED" is designed to comfortably seat seven, and is moderately priced. Permit us to send descriptive literature or arrange for a demonstration.

GREAT GRAVEL BED UNDER SANGAMON

Civil Engineer Points to It as Source of Revenue for City and County.

"I have just returned from the Little Miami river a short distance above Cincinnati," said a local civil engineer. "There are three great hydraulic gravel pits there within an area of forty acres. They are tremendous affairs and they are taking out enormous quantities of gravel of the finest quality. The gravel is nished for the building of streets in Cincinnati.

BIG BED OF GRAVEL.

"In making the borings for the new dam at Decatur it was found that there is from thirty to fifty feet of gravel underlying the surface. There are no doubt millions of yards of gravel underlying the proposed lake. This gravel is of a quality as good as gravel as accessible. To know that the recovery of this gravel is a good business proposition we have only to look at the result of the little operation of one man who operated a hydraulic gravel pit near the St. Louis bridge. He has made himself rich in a few years and he took it all from that hole, which is now filled with water.

COULD PAY FOR DAM.

"I hold that all of the needs of Macon county for road building and of Decatur for the building of streets and the construction of buildings could be supplied from the gravel underlying the basin of the lake. And what an impetus could be given to building and road construction by an adequate supply of first class gravel and sand at a moderate cost. The city or the county could well afford to acquire and operate such a gravel pit and it is no wild dream to say that a large part or perhaps the whole cost of the water conservation project could be realized in profits.

WOULD HELP LAKE.

It is certain that the water plan would not be injured in any way by the removal of this gravel. It goes without saying that much of this lake will be shallow, the water stagnant and grown up with weeds and covered with lily pads. Whenever the gravel is removed the water will be deep and pure. The capacity of the lake will be increased, and indeed lake of sufficient capacity might be obtained with less dam. We know that a large amount of water in the present basin is supplied from the dredging of this grave. will open up these springs and increase this supply.

CAN BE RECOVERED.

"I am merely offering these suggestions and am not criticizing the powers that be. We know that the gravel is there in almost inexhaustible quantities and that it can be profitably recovered. We know that other supplies of gravel are becoming exhausted. It is said by engineers that there is not enough gravel in sight for the system of state bond roads to which the state of Illinois is pledged. We are now shipping gravel from Lincoln from Montezuma and from Attica in order to get first class material. I contend that we have plenty of it right at home if we will only use it."

CHAMPAIGN COUNTY TO VOTE ON ROADS

The special bond issue committee of the board of supervisors of Champaign county at work on plans and specifications for a $1,750,000 hard road bond issue, will have its work completed in a short time, and will recommend to the board of supervisors at its December meeting that the proposal be put up to a vote of the people at a special spring election, says the Champaign News.

At the last session of the board the $1,750,000 proposition was referred to the special committee with instructions to revise the road routes and designate kinds of materials to be used.

Previous specifications called for brick highways on the main roads, concrete pavement for the lesser traveled roads, and macadam pavement for a third class, or cross roads, not subject to heavy traffic.

Under the new specifications, because of increasing heavy traffic, the macadam pavement proposition likely will be abandoned, it was stated.

AUTOISTS BEWARE OF FROZEN RUTS SAY TIRE EXPERTS

Now is the time when the automobile owner who drives in winter should be preparing for such drives. "Watch out for frozen ruts" is one of the words of caution which tire experts are now sending out as the ruts of frozen ground bite the tire in the weakest spot, the side walls.

WEAK SIDE WALLS.

Any tire tread is good for much hard abuse from frozen ground, clods or ruts, but the terrific grinding and scraping which the weaker side walls get when a heavy car drops into a rut whose sides are almost as hard as stone and which are usually rough and often sharp with bits of stone or gravel, quickly weaken the side walls.

Tears, snags and other damages which may easily lead to blow outs are quite likely to follow the failure of the motorists to keep out of such bad spots in the winter roads.

The tread is made to bear the brunt of travel because it is the part of the tire that comes in direct contact with the road. Put a tire in a deep rut, however, and the side walls will get as much wear from the jagged edges of the rut as the tread does from the bottom. Consequently, when the motorist must drive over a rut-torn and frozen road he will save the expense by driving over the top of the roadway instead of in the ruts. It may be a little rougher, but it's a lot more economical as far as tire expense is concerned.

IMPORT FEW TOYS FROM GERMANY

Americans Make No Effort to Resume Trade With That Country.

Now that trade has been resumed with most of the world, Germany finds that the market for toys is not what it used to be, says the United States Commercial attaché at the Hague. From reports coming from Germany, it appears that American buyers of German toys have thus confined their efforts to the completion of shipments of toys purchased before the United States entered the war but the shipping of which to America was prevented as a result of blockade regulations. American toy houses appear to have been making practically no efforts to resume their import toy trade from Germany.

MUCH WOOD USED.

Wood is the important material in toy making in this country it being estimated that 28 million feet of lumber are used annually, with basswood the most commonly employed and maple, beech and birch following rather closely in its lead. Basswood is often used for the bottoms of children's wagons and carts, while the seats and rims are made of maple. Dominoes and checkers are made from both maple and basswood while toy blocks are made chiefly from basswood and some yellow poplar. Toy wagons and sleds are also made from birch; doll furniture from white pine, birch, maple and beech; doll houses from birch and basswood, while many turned toys are made from birch. In the domestic manufacture of toys, Pennsylvania is the leading state.

So simple and easily understood are the signals given by a SAFDICATOR that children and grown-ups alike, sense their meaning at first glance.

Uniformity is the secret of success of any good product.

It's the reason Willard Batteries with Threaded Rubber Insulation are making such a wonderful record of long life without repairs.

Ordinary materials used for insulation between battery plates are taken just as they come from nature and can't be made uniform by any process.

But Threaded Rubber Insulation is built up by a scientific manufacture. Every piece of it is like every other and almost invariably Threaded Rubber lasts as long as battery plates.

No wonder many of these batteries have given three and four years of uninterrupted good service.

REO

World's Largest Producer Yet Far Behind Demand

Reo is the largest producer of pneumatic-tired motor trucks—we said trucks, not little delivery wagons—and yet the Reo factory has never been able to supply the demand for Reo "Speed Wagons." Not even to get in sight of it, so to say. Fast as they can enlarge the truck departments of the Reo plant and increase production, still the demand for Reos continues to gain. There's a reason for this. In a sentence, it is Reo quality and Reo service. Of course Reo might catch up with the demand were they willing to sacrifice quality in the interests of mere volume. But that is contrary to all Reo precedent and policy. Reo have never been ambitious to make all the motor vehicles—only the best. And so, while they are striving to more nearly approach the demand, they will never make more Reos than they can make and make every one as good as the best ever turned out of the Reo shops. That's why the demand always exceeds the supply of Reo "Speed Wagons." That's why this condition is likely to long continue. It's a good condition—from the user's standpoint. Tardy buyers are certain to be disappointed and will have to accept a "next best." Buyers who appreciate the condition that arises from the superiority of this Reo "Speed Wagon" will place their orders at once and secure an early delivery.

The New Motor Car

The Greatest Improvement In Riding Comfort Since The Introduction of Pneumatic Tires

HERE is a brand new type of car. It solves the problem which has baffled automotive engineers—how to combine riding comfort with light weight and economy.

Our new Three-Point Suspension Springs make this possible.

These are the first springs of their kind and they are made of chrome vanadium steel. They are exclusive with Overland.

Because of these springs, Overland 4 combines the riding qualities of large heavy, expensive, long wheelbase cars, together with the advantages and economy of small light cars.

With 100-inch wheelbase, Overland 4 has the luxurious riding ease of 130-inch Springbase.

The exclusive Three-Point Suspension Springs cushion the car so that it rides well on all roads; they reduce choppy rebounds and side swaying, protect the car from road shocks and prolong its life, minimize twisting or racking of frame and body, enable the car to hold the road better.

The car and passengers ride smoothly as though floating, free from road shocks that the springs ward off.

But this new riding comfort, possible only with these Three-Point Suspension Springs, is but one of the advantages of Overland 4.

Its light weight makes possible great economy of gasoline and tires.

High quality materials insure durability. All vital parts of the front axle and steering gear and all highly stressed gears and shafts for driving the car are made of alloy steel.

The equipment list of Overland 4 is high grade, including Auto-Lite Starter and Lighting System—Electric Horn—Marshall Divan Upholstery Springs—Demountable Rims—Three Speed Transmission—Slanting Rain Vision Windshield—Thorton Carburetor—U. S. L. Batteries and many other high quality conveniences.

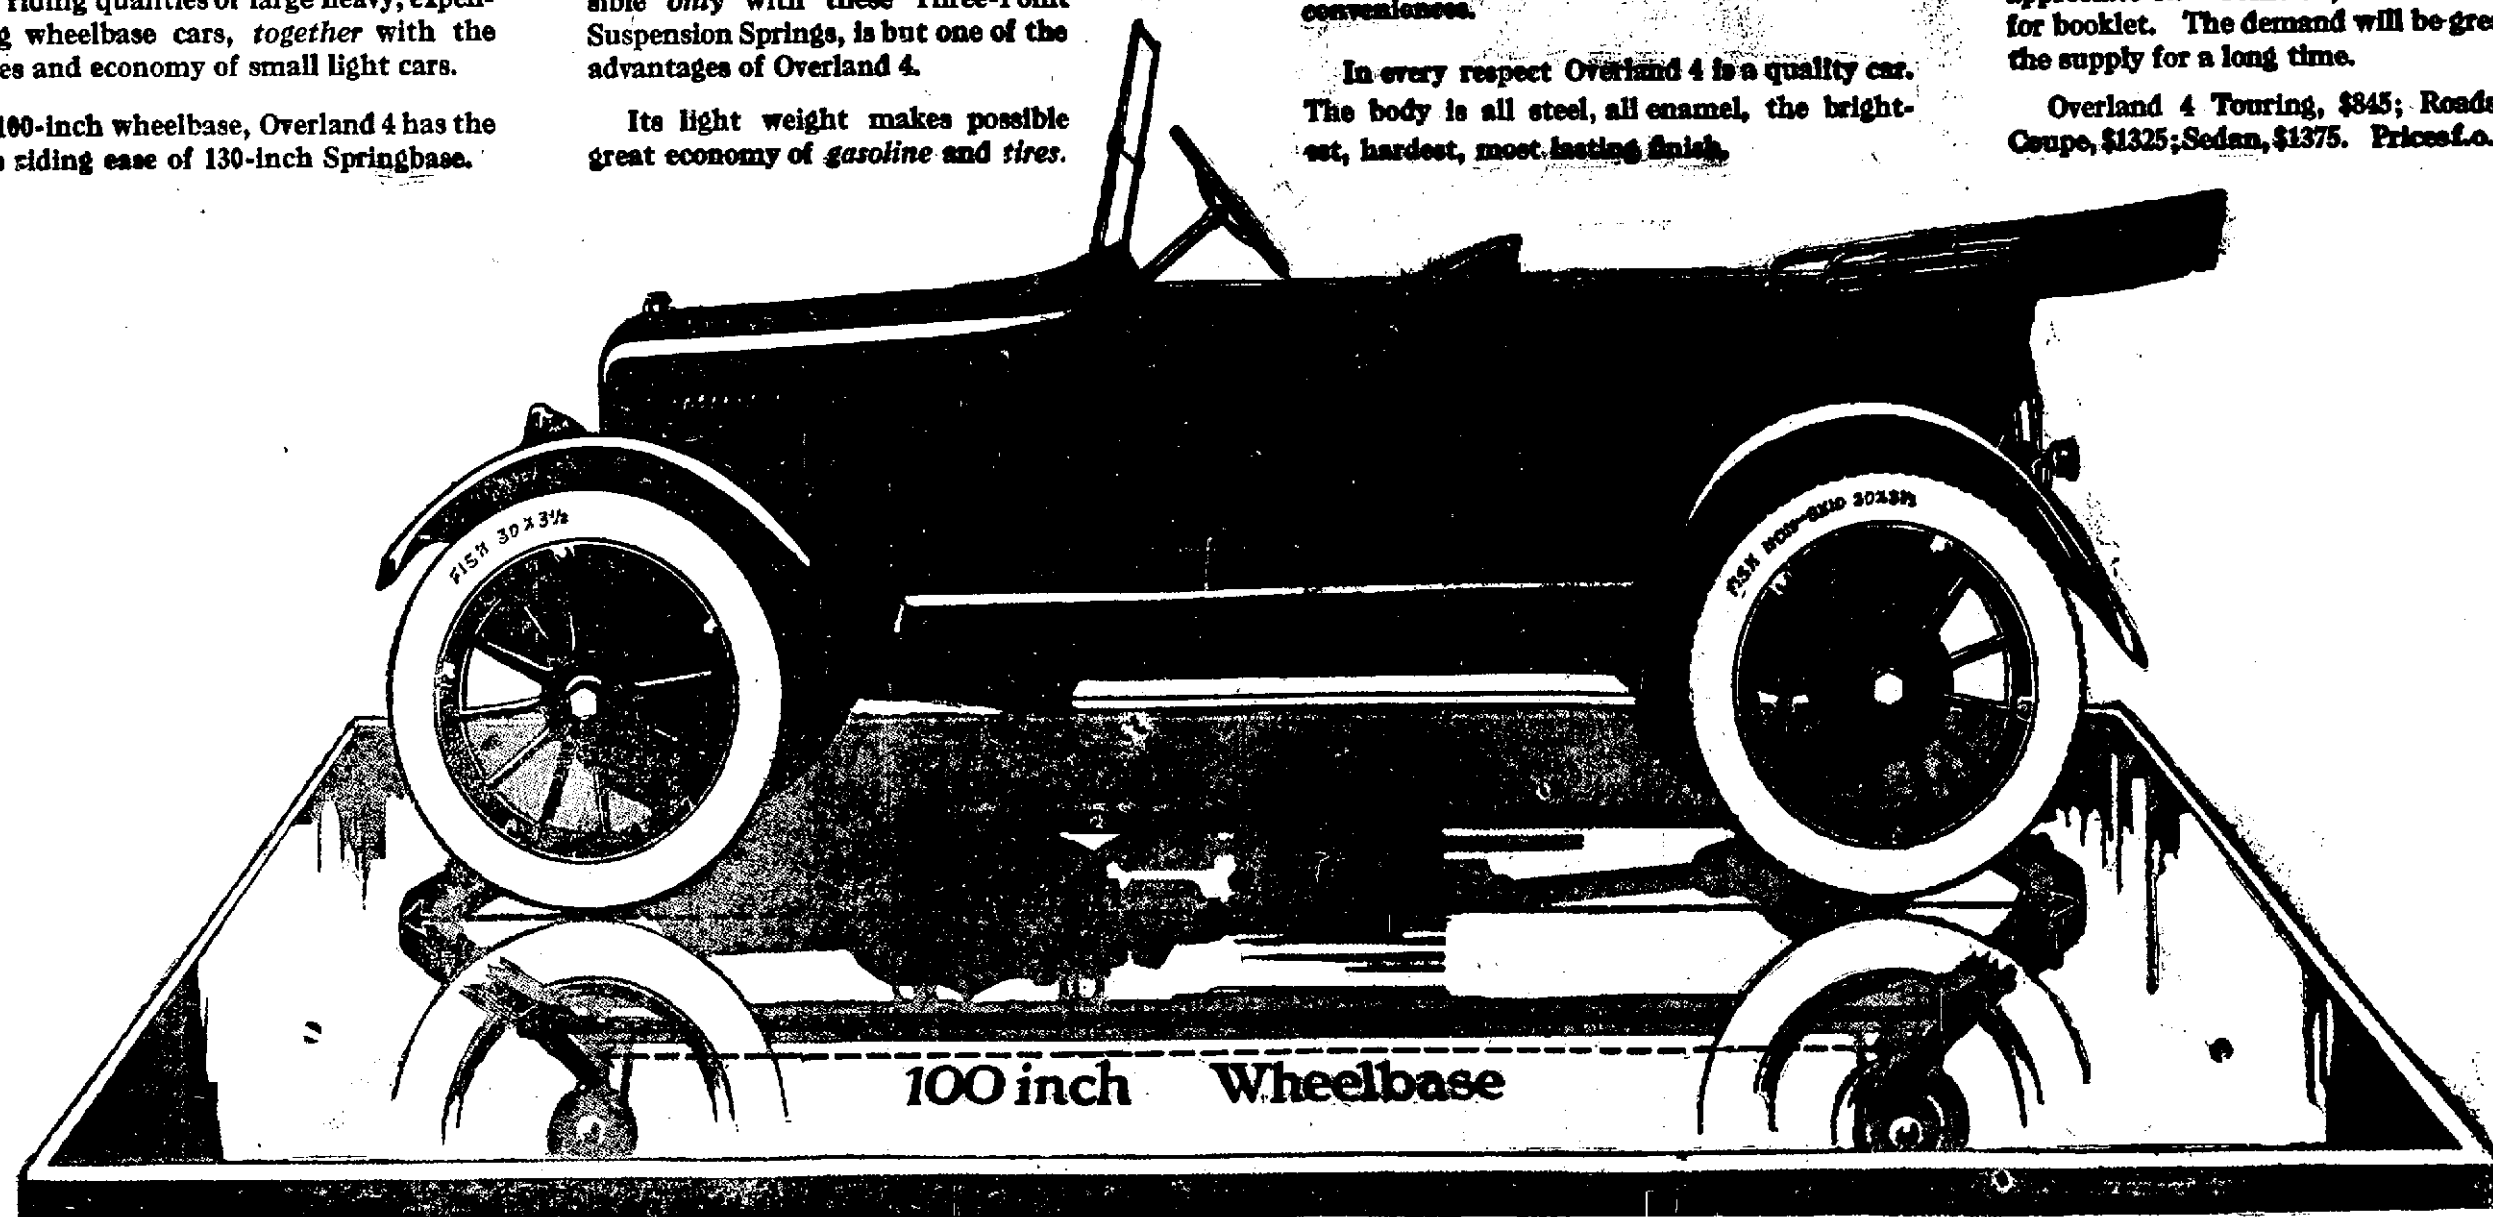

In every respect Overland 4 is a quality car. The body is all steel, all enamel, the brightest, hardest, most lasting finish.

Overland 4 has been tested for two years and more than 250,000 miles over the Rocky Mountains, prairies, through deep mud and scorching deserts—through quick, sharp climatic changes. As a result of these tests we were able to judge the car's performance under every condition and to perfect it before offering it to the public.

There is no previous car of any size or price to adequately compare with the character of service Overland 4 introduces.

The farther you ride in it the more you will appreciate it. Come in, see the car and ask for booklet. The demand will be greater than the supply for a long time.

Overland 4 Touring, $845; Roadster, $865; Coupe, $1325; Sedan, $1375. Prices f.o.b. Toledo.

"WHERE MUSIC IS SWEETEST"

CHOIR BOYS CATCH STRIKE FEVER

Youthful Singers Present Demand.

The prevalent strike movement has even affected the music world—the sacred music region of it, too—altogether the most unexpected quarter it could have chosen to affect. Specifically, the boys of the Grace Cathedral Choir in San Francisco have "walked out." This is probably the first time in history that such action has been taken by boy choristers, and it is a unique bit in the study of boy psychology.

OBJECT TO ADULT SINGERS
According to one of the boys, the trouble began when they found grown-up singers added to the choir when the boys returned from their vacation. The youngsters rebelled on the ground that "the grown-ups could make more noise but they didn't know an anthem from a waltz and yet got more money for one service than the kids did in a month." They consequently drew up an ultimatum signed "The Union of the Boy Choir," slipped it under Dean Gresham's door, and gave him three days in which either to answer favorably or have a strike of boy choristers on his hands.

DEMANDS INCLUDE CARFARE
The following are some of the demands which the boys make:

1. That choir rehearsals shall begin at 7 p. m. and shall end at 5 p. m. sharp.
2. That boys requiring carfare shall receive 30 cents each time.
3. That boys not requiring carfare shall receive 20 cents each time.

The use of Christian hymns is causing a revolution in the music of the Orient, according to the Inter-church World Movement. The squeaky notes of the average Chinese and Japanese orchestra are giving place to the strains of "Rock of Ages," and other hymns. Missionaries find it always easy to draw a crowd with a baby organ.

In agreeable contrast to the universal rise in prices are two symphony concert undertakings, one in New York and the other in Seattle, which aim to popularize and democratize this type of music by bringing it to the people at a charge of only 25 cents. In both cases a splendid series of programs is announced.

Admirers of the late Oscar Hammerstein are glad to know that a plan is on foot to erect a suitable memorial to the great impresario. Letters have been sent out to prominent musicians of the country, asking them to give their views and their co-operation.

In celebrating the completion of the fiftieth year of his musical life at the New York Hippodrome a few days ago, Nathan Franko, the eminent conductor, was assisted in leading an orchestra of 110 men by a remarkable group of his noted fellow-conductors, including Bodansky, Stokowski, Strinsky and Victor Herbert. On the occasion of his golden jubilee, Mr. Franko presented a free scholarship for advanced music study to a promising boy violinist from Philadelphia.

Though war drives are now a thing of the past, it is interesting to note that their methods, lessons, and machinery are being employed to finance musical undertakings of a permanent and democratic character, such as local symphony orchestras. Philadelphia is the first city to organize a drive of this kind and is centering all efforts on raising a million dollar endowment fund to insure the future economic security of the Philadelphia Orchestra, of which Leopold Stokowski is conductor.

PICK THE TWO BEST

On Tuesday of this week there is an election to get delegates for the constitutional convention.

In this district there are three candidates who are within striking distance, and from these two men will be selected. These three are Robert I. Hunt, Admiral C. B. T. Moore, and A. H. Mills.

You can lend a hand by going to the polls Tuesday and voting for the two of these men you think best qualified for the work of the convention. Outside a few people, it is assumed this election is to be devoid of partisan considerations.

And the men who are chosen delegates will be expected by all to go to Springfield and entirely forget they are either Democrats or Republicans. There is other and important work to be done in that convention, and our business is to select the two men who will do it best.

When you go to the polls don't vote for or against a man because he has been identified with either of the big parties. You should not care about this, and you don't want as delegates men who do care.

Voters of this district know these three candidates pretty well. Voters in this instance should be in position to make selections that will be a credit to the district, by which is meant the selection of men who will give a good account of themselves after they go into the convention.

SOME MUST HAVE TURKEY

There is always something to worry a fellow, if that is the kind of exercise he prefers. Again the question of the Thanksgiving turkey is up, and a man can help himself plen-tily in the discussion that is to follow.

By this time most people in this community have taken on the feeling they are not compelled in statute or moral law to have a turkey for the Thanksgiving feast. It is true the day is not filled with the flavor of old if there is no turkey bird on the table, but the sun will come up just the same and on schedule time next morning.

There are a few people who must have turkey for this feast. Take the dinner in Connecticut that Mr.
McFarland will travel all the way from California to help eat, that feast calls for turkey. But we in Illinois are not hampered by all the traditions of this occasion, so we can trust our fortunes to roast beef or plain chicken.

WORTH THINKING OVER

This Prairie avenue paving block situation justifies the making of a few remarks.

Mayor Borchers says he is convinced the blocks that have come are the best ever laid in this town; he is satisfied further that this block is just as good as one built literally according to specifications.

To get the block specified it is necessary to deal with a manufacturing concern that has a patent on its article, the distillate oil mentioned. To get this article will cost more money, presumably.

Decatur's inspectors at the plant in Georgia let these blocks be shipped. Inspectors then thought they were all right. It took several weeks to learn the oil used in preparing the blocks was not just the thing specified, though just as good.

Under all these circumstances will not the property owners be taking a wise course in deciding to accept the blocks that are here? If somebody has put up a scheme to force the use of a patented article, one that is no better, why help him to it?

THE WAY IT GROWS

At the woman's conference held in Washington a delegate from Argentina tells us they have done mighty little in her country in the matter of legislation against child labor.

In fact in all Argentina only one state has fixed a minimum age by statute, and this is 12 years. This is next to nothing so far as legislation on the subject goes.

But the people of Argentina may be expected to get around to this reform. There is a new country compared with what we have here.
After awhile Argentina will take on more in the manufacturing and shop line, and then will come the pressing demand for legislation to save the children.

It is a fact that in a new country children are worked hard—possibly there is a feeling it doesn't do them harm. But they grow to learn better than this, the overworked children grow up and have something to say about legislation. They recall their own experience, and they try to save others from the like.

There is something about the price of apples that government food and fair price bulletins do not explain.

In storage this year there is a much bigger stock than a year ago.
Yet the prices asked now are altogether higher than they were at that time. The apple itself is no more wholesome nor more needed now than it was twelve months ago.

Then why, with a much bigger stock in storage, is the price higher at this time? Some of the captains down the line figure they can get it, and doubtless this is the only reason. Consumers were not consulted in this figuring.

STILL IN THE GOING

Dan O'Leary, said to be 78 years old, has started on a hike from Chicago, one that will take him for a call on every governor in the United States. Of course he expects to walk every step of the way.

We had not surmised that O'Leary is as old as this announcement indicates. But he must be pretty close to it, for he was a world's champion walker more than fifty years ago. He was a good man then the best in his line in fact, and he is keeping up the lick.

More power to the old youngster, and after he finishes this hike may he feel like tackling other continents.

Japan has signed the peace treaty, which leaves only the United States away in the rear of the procession.
And we in this country pride ourselves that we can do a big thing in quicker time than any other people on earth. However, it should be understood this claim does not go when the senate at Washington gets into the proceedings.

Vice President Marshall speaks of the Red Cross as the "Gospel in Boots," which again reminds some observers that Mr. Marshall is pretty handy in his use of the English language.

A football game was postponed at Westleyan because of the muddy condition of the field. But wasn't this against all the traditions of the game?

The month of October didn't turn true to ancient form in the matter of weather, but let us trust that November will make amends.

ily called at the White House.

Ten Years Ago
Today In Decatur

NOVEMBER 2, 1909.

Efforts were being made to have the city council make the office of city engineer elective instead of appointive.

First new corn was received at Decatur mills. It graded No. 2.

It was the opening of the rushing season at Millikin and was marked with many parties.

About twenty Decatur Elks went to Terra Haute to attend the dedication of the new Elks' Home there.

Miss Maude Littell entertained at a masquerade party.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

Some new corn was coming in. It was of good quality. The price was cents a bushel.

Attorney A. G. Webber bought the building on E. William street, occupied by the Wheelmen's club, from Dr. W. J. Chenoweth. The price paid was $3,500.

The first snow of the season fell it lasted only ten minutes but the air was full and everything looked white while it lasted.

Mrs. Olcham, mother of H. L. Oldham sailed on the Oceanic from Liverpool for the states to spend the winter with her son.

Union miners drew their fifth week's strike benefit. They got a dollar more than before, making $5 for the married men and $4 for the single men.

THE GREAT AMERICAN HOME

ABOUT TOWN

I used to go home with a raging headache. I could not eat," said the head of one of the hosiery departments in Decatur stores.
"For a long time I tried to explain to the customers why the hosiery costs had reached such unreasonable heights but I found that I was not getting anywhere with the customer and I was rapidly worrying myself sick."

"Now I let them do the worrying.
I can't help it because of the high prices and I have quit arguing."
"Look at that stocking," said the buyer for the firm as he picked up a stocking which had just come in.
We once sold that stocking at 50 cents a pair. It is now $1.75 and it is only a little stocking at that.

"Six stockings that just a year ago, at the signing of the armistice, were a dozen are now quoted at $32.
The hosiery buyers are in a quandry.
We are wondering when the limit in price will be reached. It seems as if it certainly is here."

"You wouldn't blame me for being careful with my sugar," said a restaurant man Saturday, if you knew how much it cost me to get it."

"I can buy my groceries wholesale, but I went out to a small town near Decatur the other day and bought $56 worth of groceries, at retail prices, in order to get just one hundred

NO GUESSES AS TO FUTURE COAL COST

Victory by Miners Would Boost Price.

What the coal price in Decatur would be if the miners should win the present strike so that their demands should be granted in full, is Decatur coal man declined to say, instead he said that it would be difficult to figure except in a very general estimate and that he said he would not care to make when everything is as uncertain as it now is.

With the working day reduced to six hours, five days a week, and with an advance of 60 per cent in wages to the miners and some kind of an advance to other men employed about the mine the total cost of mining coal could not be determined.

OVERHEAD THE SAME.
The assertion, he said, by the miners that they could mine as much coal in six hours as in eight remained to be proved. If the output is less the overhead will be that much greater per ton as the cost of maintenance and doing business will remain at least as high as at present and that charged up against a smaller average daily tonnage would naturally add to the cost of the coal.

The office forces at the local mines are now catching up on their work after four of the hardest weeks in the business when little rest was possible. The constant calls on the telephones and the explanations as to why it would be impossible to take any more orders, in addition to the usual work of getting out the coal orders already on file, has left the clerical force in a state of nervous exhaustion. They will welcome the suspension of the telephone calls as a great relief.

With no teams about the shafts and no coal being dumped into the chutes a Sunday calm pervaded the premises about the mines Saturday.

DOLLY SISTERS
IN "OH LOOK"
HERE WEDNESDAY

The incomparable Dolly Sisters, the toasts of Broadway, who are the twin stars in the colorful and melodious musical comedy, "Oh, Look," are said in this merry play to be possessed of a flaming spirit of joy. Their energy displayed in "Oh Look" seems to be inexhaustible, and the critics describe the Dollys as having the grace of wild young things of the forest.

The Dolly Sisters will be presented here by F. Ray Comstock and Morris Gest at the Lincoln Square theater, next Wednesday evening—

200 FAMILIES GET EMERGENCY COAL

Six Hundred Orders On File at City Yard—Some Ordered Who Already Had Supply.

Two hundred families were served with coal from the city's emergency supply Friday and Saturday. There are just about 400 applicants for coal and it is expected that practically all of them will have been served with a ton of coal by the middle of the week.

People thronged the city yard office all day Saturday asking for coal and Commissioner J. W. Montgomery and George B. Flint, who are on duty with Assistant Street Superintendent Sam Wilson and his clerks, were all kept busy as bees. Commissioner Van Praag will be at the yard office today to help out, for it is the intention to keep right on delivering coal today, many families saying they were out of coal.

ALREADY HAD COAL.
On several occasions when teamsters called with a ton of coal they found more coal in the basements than they had on their wagons. In cases of that kind they went to the nearest telephone called up the yard office and got the name of the next nearest applicant for coal and took the load there. All have positive instructions not leave any coal for a family that has enough coal on hand to last a few days, the idea being to supply only those who are in danger of suffering for lack of fuel.

Each family now out of coal can be given a ton all probably will be able to get along until the miners start to delivering again. It is not thought that the strike will last very long, but even if it should be settled Monday it would still be many days before the coal dealers could catch up with their orders.

PARK BEAUTIFUL
AT THIS SEASON

Trees Are in Gorgeous Autumn Colors.

At all seasons is Fairview park beautiful, and this is one of the particular seasons when it has an enchantment for everyone. The trees have taken on their gorgeous autumn colors and are well set off by the very green grass and shrubbery about the grounds.

FLOWERS AND PLANTS
All of the flowers and plants have been taken into their winter homes by Mr. and Mrs. Torrence, where they will be kept warm and carefully cared for during the winter months.
Many little slips are growing in rich soil and will be replanted in the spring. Not many of the plants are in bloom, but some of them will be lovely at Christmas time. Ariselantas, spider lilies, roses, geraniums, palms, ferns and many other plants are in the collection.

The recent rains and warm temperature has kept the grass green. Clover is quite high and the little dandelions have the courage to push their heads up. Some of the grandfather dandelions are to be seen.

SEARCH FOR MUSHROOMS

Many folks have visited the park
during the last two or three weeks, not particularly to revel in its beauty, for they have kept their eyes on the ground in the search of the delicious mushroom. They have been growing profusely of late, and many persons have had feasts for them. Mr.
Torrence has at times sprinkled the mushroom spawn about the park and in spots the mushrooms are most abundant. Only those who are experts in picking the mushrooms is so because there are many loadstools growing about in the same places with the mushrooms.

At night, when the weather is fair, the park is prettily lighted with bonfires among the trees. Usually between five and seven parties are held on the pleasant nights, when the young people come out to roast wieners.

RABBIT SEASON.

The rabbit season opened Saturday and continues through until the last day of next January. Because of mild conditions, it is not likely many hunters will be out Saturday and Sunday.

SELECT DELEGATES AT POLLS TUESDAY

Little Interest is Being Shown Locally.

TO NAME TWO MEN

Women Vote Only on Three Propositions.

Next Tuesday is the election for delegates to the constitutional convention and unless all signs fall the interest in it probably will be much lighter than it should be on such an important issue as the selection of the men who are to write the constitution for the state of Illinois, a constitution which will probably be in force for at least a half century.

In this district the three candidates, Robert I. Hunt, A. H. Mills and Admiral C. B. T. Moore, have recently been stirring up interest through the use of the mails in direct appeals to the voters.

AGAINST I. & R.

The feeling as far as has been expressed publicly in this district is unfavorable to the initiative and referendum propositions as submitted at this time simply as recommendations to the delegates. Expressions by the candidates have very generally been to the effect that the safeguards to protect the real wishes of the people as given in the propositions submitted are entirely inadequate and would make possible a government by a very small minority.

Facts About the Tuesday Election

The election for delegates to the constitutional convention will be held Tuesday, Nov. 4, and the polls will be open at 6 in the morning and close at 6 o'clock in the afternoon.

There are three candidates, but only two can be elected. Two of these, Attorney A. H. Mills and Admiral C. B. T. Moore, are the republican candidates and Robert I. Hunt is the Democratic candidate.

PLAN MISSISSIPPI VALLEY EXPOSITION

Will Be Held in St. Louis, March 1-13; To Be Annual Event.

A Mississippi Valley Exposition will be held in St. Louis March 1-13, 1920. The purpose of the exposition is to assemble the manufactured products and resources of the valley and to attract the attention of foreign buyers, particularly Latin-American, and to provide a place for the exhibit of their products in order that reciprocal trade relationship may be established.

It is expected to make this an annual event.

MINERS UNION 2622 ISSUES STATEMENT CAUSE OF STRIKE

A committee of Local No. 2622 United Mine Workers of America issued a statement Saturday evening concerning the miners' strike, giving the miners' reasons for the present situation.

The statement as authorized by David White, George Cook and Julius Geonkowski follows: "The impression gained by the public in regard to the fault of the miners quitting work 'That is was the fault of our head officer' is absolutely incorrect. Mr. Palmer says the injunction was issued against the officers to prevent them from assisting or instructing the men in any manner."

"The men need no assistance whatever, nor troops to protect them while they are at work for they stand one hundred per cent for better conditions and will not go to work again until these conditions are granted, and then it is doubtful if there will be a full response for the reason that miners are continually quitting the mine for occupations far more desirable than mining."

AVERAGE WAGE $5

"The average wage of miners in Decatur is about $5 per day this does not mean yearly average only for spells. There are plenty of other jobs that pay more than $5 per day. It also seems as if the public has a mistaken idea in the six hour day, that they want it merely to shorten the day. Such is not the case. The real truth about the six hour day is that the miners want steady work the year around and by working six hours could produce as much coal working the whole year as they do now working by spells. At least why cry about the six hour day before it has been given a trial."

"People who can afford to put coal in during the summer have no one to blame but themselves. The idea that coal stored during the summer is a good or had deteriorated a great deal by winter is a mistaken one, as you can find out by inquiring of the University of Illinois where they have made a scientific investigation of the matter."

ASK FAIR HEARING

"In regard to the justification of the miners quitting work let us ask, why is the full blame placed on the miners? Do you think the war is over? Why was the fuel administration abolished all over the country? Why wasn't it put back in effect when the operators raised the price of coal? Didn't the operator break his war time agreement before the miner did? Why does the operator raise the price a good deal more than the raise they grant? Give this a fair and impartial hearing before passing judgment."

"Did you ever see the miners come up out of the mine at quitting time? If you would take a look once you might have a better opinion of them. Then if you are not quite satisfied

"In regard to the miners having priority over the public in getting their coal is a very flimsy argument against the miners as there is nothing in the agreement to that effect. Wouldn't you have to feed your own tollers to produce the article which you were selling. The statement that the miners were taking practically all the coal from the lump shutes was very misleading as they probably didn't take one tenth of it and we repeat it is a very poor argument against the miners."

Let us quiet your fretting about disorder as far as Decatur is concerned. There will be no disorder or unusualness from the miner, for as stated before, a great many of them don't care if they work in a mine or not, and many may not come back when work is resumed. Let us say further that if you knew the enormous profits of the operator (which we have figures to prove) you would be astounded. Also that the price of coal would not necessarily have to be raised but a very small amount to meet the raise."

WANT BETTER CONDITIONS

"The public didn't kick very hard when coal was raised 50 cents here to meet the 15 cent raise of the teamsters. Why the extra 35 cents? We see a remark in the press by some esteemed gent that the majority of the miners are foreigners and illiterate. If he had finished it up by saying that any man would do that kind of dirty work was a fool, and should have his work exploited for the benefit of a few individuals financially. We would have partly agreed with him by adding that a man would be a fool and ignorant if he did not try to improve the conditions so they would be tolerable to work under."

"Did you ever stop to figure that the miner has expenses in the way of picks, shovels, wedges, lamps, carbide and other things. The miner pays for all this out of his pay. When an employer gets sick his goes on. Yet the employee is blamed for wanting to better conditions."

WASHINGTON CONTRACT

"As to conditions of Washington Miners Contract, Harry A. Garfield at the beginning of the fuel administration activities called together representatives of the Mine Operators organization and also officials of Mine Workers' organization, for the purpose of fixing marketing prices for the different grades of coal, and prices were fixed to the satisfaction of the operators. Certainly the cost of production had to be taken up and fixed before the market value could be placed, and this part of the transaction was finally disposed of by allowing not the enormous advance spoken of by congressmen and by some equally as ignorant of the facts. "But the miners were actually allowed an advance of 10 cents per ton on coal mining and 15 per cent on what is known as dead work making a total advance of perhaps 12 1/2 per cent for mining. On account of inequalities already existing company men and laborers if you please were allowed an advance of $1.40 a day fixing daily wages at $4.75 and $5 for underground work. All outside work to be done at smaller scale and when details were worked out in establishing a fair price on production the fuel administration after allowing a reasonable profit to the operator then and there fixed the market price on different grades of coal to continue in effect during the emergency created by the war."

DISSOLVED DEPARTMENT

"All parties signed the contract with the understanding that it remain in effect until emergencies caused by the war had passed and not to exceed the 31st of March, 1920. Dr. Garfield to supervise during said emergency. Now somewhere about 7 months ago the government decided that the emergency had passed, and dissolved the department governing fuel control. That was the passing out of the first party of the contract. Then after the passing out of the fuel administration operators all over the country proceeded to advance the market values of coal. (Public please take time to examine quotations made for Commissioner Van Praag so as to ascertain actual difference between present prices and the price fixed by fuel administration."

"You can see the emergency no longer existed for the operator with the passing out of government control the contract had expired as far as market values were concerned, and for five months the ever ascending prices of coal could not help but attract attention of everybody and especially the men who were a part of the fuel administration."

defense of the public. We hear an echo from Washington that they are doing every thing to prevent profiteering. Does it look like it in coal prices? Something they claim has been under their contract all the time. You can surely see in this the passing of any obligation assumed by the operator in Garfield Washington Contract. Now the two greater parties to the contract have passed out. Now the third and last but we will not say smallest because he is the only party to the contract who has lived up to it one year after armistice was signed, is to be enjoined for asking an adjustment of wage schedule to meet the increase in prices of all commodities. The Washington agreement is working effectively for miners. Dr. Garfield has been called back to lend color to the declaration that the fuel administration is still functioning.

"Who was it that said that uneven justice breeds contempt? What kind of justice is it that cancels the obligation of one party to a contract and holds the other party liable to its every detail? We want to be understood as not quarreling with the operators because some of them like all classes of people have men among them that are gentlemen in every sense that the word implies and most of these did not have much, if anything, to say or do in bringing about the present difficulties, because their representation is swallowed up by the big interest, and we don't mean the other one hundred and nine million five hundred thousand people, but we mean the big interest in controlling the mining industry such as Peabody and others."

PRaises Macon County.

"We believe we are justified in saying that the relationship between the management and employees at the Macon County Coal mine never was as friendly as it has been in the past six months and don't think it can be surpassed by any other industry in the city."

"In conclusion we wish to ask or indeed we invite, any person qualified to correct any statements contained in this statement to come forward and do it not for our benefit but for the benefit of the public who is entitled to the facts that in fairness they are entitled to so that they may be able to decide intelligently. It has been the purpose of some people to make it appear that the miners are an ungrateful bunch and among them the public can not expect any consideration. We wish to say that no person or group of persons have ever made a reasonable appeal to the miners that did not receive earnest consideration."

SCOVILL

A LETTER TO EVERY REPUBLICAN VOTER

October 30, 1919.

Dear Sir: Next Tuesday, November 4th, is Election Day.

Two delegates to the Constitutional Convention are to be elected. Three are running. We believe the two candidates on the Republican ticket represent more fairly the will of the majority of this great Republican Senatorial District.

ANDREW H. MILLS, a lawyer, and CHARLES B. T. MOORE, a retired U. S. Naval Officer, both long residents of this county and interested in all that is best and good in government, are the Republican Candidates. They have been selected by the Republicans of this district in a popular primary.

This is not the year for a non-partisan effort. The Republican party, by its representatives, writes the laws of this State and also executes those laws, and it has done this for practically more than half a century. Why not then trust to its representatives to write the basic law of the State? Especially so, when honest and capable men have been nominated for that purpose.

Strong effort is being put forth by the opposition under the guise of "non-partisanship" to "put over" a wheel-horse of the Democratic party. To offset this, each loyal Republican should "put his shoulder to the wheel" and see that not only himself but his Republican friends and neighbors go to the polls next Tuesday and do their duty.

This is an important election and our duty is plain.

Let us be "up and doing" early and late until the job is done acceptably.

Yours for success,

J. H. HILL, Chairman.
JOHN W. EVANS, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE
MACON COUNTY

Who Shall It Be?

The people of Macon, Dewitt and Logan Counties are about to select two men to transact for them a very important bit of business.

IT IS NOT POLITICS

It Is Just a Plain Business Proposition That Calls For Hard Headed, Sane and Just Treatment

The Problems Involved Are Social and Economic

HERE'S A LIST OF THEM

How shall we so adjust our laws relative to taxes that equality and justice shall prevail?

What changes can we make that will cause our constitution to be more responsive to popular will when properly expressed?

How can we protect "down state" interests from the growing menace of control of the state by a single county?

Shall women be given full suffrage?

Shall we adopt the short ballot?

Shall we do away with minority representation in the legislature?

Shall we have genuine Initiative and Referendum?

If the voters of the 28th Senatorial district believe that my record as citizen, business man, and publicist during twenty-seven years that I have lived in their midst justifies their support at the polls on Tuesday, November 4th, I shall be glad to receive it and if I am elected I solicit their help and co-operation in the stupendous task that will be set before me.

ROBERT I. HUNT

Candidate for DELEGATE

TO THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

85 WOULD BE CENSUS TAKERS

Take Examination at High School.

Eighty-five finished the civil service examination for census enumerators in the Eleventh district was held Saturday afternoon in the high school building. The examination was conducted by C. A. Lindsley of Decatur, civil service secretary and was in charge of A. E. Eden of Champlain, census supervisor.

The examination was for Macon county alone. All the townships in the county were represented but several of the townships were represented by only one candidate for the job of enumerator. The candidates ranged in age from twenty-one to seventy years of age. Two or three were over sixty and one appeared to be at least seventy years of age. The candidates were about equally divided between the sexes.

THREE HOUR TEST.
The examination was a three hours' test to determine the fitness of the candidates for census enumerators. The hours were to have been from 2 to 5 but there were too many came to take the examination for the room which is assigned for these examinations and a larger room had to be found. A half hour was lost in arranging for the change of rooms. The examination began at 1:30 and was concluded at 4:30.

The test was of a most practical kind. It was not an educational test such as is usually given in a civil service examination. The candidates were called upon to do exactly the things that they would do as census enumerators. They were required to fill out two blanks, one a population blank and the other an agricultural blank. To each blank was attached a sheet of instructions. Their fitness was determined from the accuracy with which they followed instructions and filled out the blanks.

Handwriting, spelling and neatness will doubtless be considered in grading the papers. The papers will be graded by the census supervisor, Mr. Lindsley will arrange the papers and forward them to Mr. Eden at Champlain Monday morning.

MISS RADA PAVLOVA TO SPEAK TONIGHT
 Native of Bulgaria at First Congregational Church.
 Miss Rada Pavlova, a native of Bulgaria, who speaks at 7:30 tonight in costume in the First Congregational church, is an interesting person. At present she is field secretary for the Woman's Board of Missions of the Interior, for the Congregational church. This is her third trip to America.
 Miss Pavlova will appear in the costume of Macedonia. She will tell of the work which missions have done for Bulgaria and other foreign countries. She is a graduate of Samokov college and has served through the three Balkan wars, being a teacher in Monastir, Macedonia, for a period of twenty-seven years.
 Bulgaria was an ally of Germany in the world war, but according to Miss Pavlova's statement, as soon as the United States entered, that country became inactive. The friendly feeling which caused this attitude on the part of the Bulgarians is explained by Miss Pavlova.
MISSIONS CREATED LOVE
 Missions of the Congregational church of America were established in the northern part of the country over sixty years ago and later the Methodist of America established like centers in the southern part. Both have grown wonderfully in favor with the people and a large part of the population is interested in mission work. They feel that they are receiving their light through American teachings and not through Russian interests and they are grateful to America. They believe that America will bring about a happy solution of the world trouble. The love of the Bulgarian for the American was so great and so natural that when war was declared the friendship asserted itself and all activities in behalf of the Central Powers ceased.
 Miss Pavlova endeavors to explain to Americans the love which the Bulgarians have for this country, and to awaken them to the extent of their responsibilities in the affairs of her people.

CORN IN DEMAND AFTER LOAN TALK
Market Buoyant; Oats Up; Cereals Strong.
 Chicago, Nov. 1.—Demand for corn received new impetus today from reports that $115,000,000 of a British loan would be devoted to the purchase of cotton and grain. The market closed buoyant, 1/4 to 1/2c up higher, with December $1.81 to $1.83 1/2, and May $1.26 1/2 to $1.27 1/2. Oats finished 1/4 to 1/2c up, and provisions varying from 10 cents decline to 15 cents advance.
CORN GAINS THROUGH DAY.
 Upward swings in the price of corn began at the opening, and gained in energy throughout the day. A new upturn in the value of hogs did much to give the bulls an initial advantage, and so too did big shipments of packing house products. Gossip that it would take at least six or eight weeks to bring transportation arrangements back to normal for the movement of corn led meanwhile to increased anxiety about obtaining sufficient supplies to fill December contracts.
HEAVY COVERING OF SHORTS.
 Heavy covering by speculative shorts who had opposed an advance was the outstanding feature in the last part of the session, when most heed was being paid to effects the British loan might have on grain.
OAT HIGHER.
 Oats went higher with corn. Receipts were small, and foreign market advances.
 Strength of cereals and hogs lifted provisions. Later, though sales to realize profits caused some setbacks.
